The Editor's column

by S. R. PADDOCK

We have received a piece of literature headed, "You can double the size of your horse and buggy streets, modernize "overnight" and at little or no cost to the taxpayers by ousting the 160 or less (per frontage mile) curb hogs.

Then followed clippings from cities across the nation who have eliminated business street parking after the establishment of off-street parking areas.

We can hear our businessmen utter a cry of indignation at the more thought of such a drastic step. It has taken them five years to admit that parking meters should be installed. It will probably take them ten years to adopt the suggestion of complete off-street parking as is now in force in Chicago loop.

We think it is time that the Arlington Chamber of Commerce form a planning commission of its own and have a voice in business planning.

The commuter members of the zoning board of appeals and the plan commission area are attempting to do a good job, but street widening, lighting, one-way streets and installation of meters vitally affects the businessmen, who pay a lot in taxes and at present have little voice in a lot of things that are of vital importance to them.

Businessmen will never agree as a body, but an overall business planning by a representative group of the businessmen whose financial welfare is at stake should be of great aid to both the plan commission and the zoning board of appeals, who would no doubt give due consideration to their suggestions.

We think the village board itself would welcome such cooperation. We heard the other day of a community which has entered upon an extensive street widening program by issuing revenue bonds on the basis of receipt of state gas tax funds. It is a thought that is worth investigating.

A number of businessmen have offered to purchase revenue bonds for the immediate purchase of off-street parking as soon as meters are installed.

It could be an excellent investment for any person, although there could be no outside market for the bonds until half of the meter receipts have paid for installation costs.

Under such a plan, the businessmen would be getting their off-street parking without direct gift of funds by them for that purpose.

Two Arlington Heights boys endangered their own lives and caused $5,000 of fire damage because they entered a house under construction Sunday.

The parents of these two boys are thankful there was no loss of life, but it is also a lesson to all parents who should see to it that their children are not endangering their own lives and property of others by entering homes under construction.

William Trude, Arlington Heights, builder is offering to accept an old house as down payment on a new one. Trude has never had any difficulty selling his homes. He explains the unusual offer with, "There are a lot of local families who need a larger home. I want to make it possible for them to get it."

Commuter parking is not only taking over the railroad lots set aside for that purpose in Palatine, Arlington Heights and Mt. Prospect, but is taking over many blocks of adjoining streets.

All day parking meters appear to be the only answer.

All day parking meters, is the answer of one police department which has made such a recommendation to the city council. It all hinges on one thing:

Should the returns from business parking meters be used to purchase customer metered parking lots or to acquire free parking lots for commuters?

Arlington Heights Plan Commission in a report published this week has part of the answer. It does not believe in waiting until the traffic jams become so great in Arlington Heights that even the police will tear their hair.

A Palatine farmer puts the blame on the editor because the school population has increased so much that more school rooms are needed, which in turn means his taxes on a 150 acre farm is $100 a month. He says he can't afford to keep on farming.

We do not know the size of his income tax, but Uncle Sam cannot collect anything until after the tax collector collects his. Before blaming the editor for population increase we think he would feel better if he takes a pencil and paper and finds out how much income tax he saves by paying his real estate bill.

However, we do really feel sorry for the farmer, who is being put through the tax wringer. He deserves some relief. Perhaps a state income tax or higher sales tax will be one answer.

Postoffice bulletin under date of February 23 reads as follows: "It has been brought to the attention of this office that recently a considerable number of calendars bearing pictures of nude women have been transmitted through the mails. Such calendars are nonmailable."

Can this be Marilyn? If the postoffice wants to really protect the morals of the postal employees and the public, they could stop the circulation of certain popular magazines that are playing up on the sex curiosity of the general public.

New home under construction at 827 S. Highland, Arlington Heights, which was completely gutted by fire Sunday afternoon. William Trude, builder, told the paper damage was estimated at $5,000 and the home would have to be completely rebuilt. The fire was started by two young boys, one of which had lit a small piece of paper and thought he could get a better fire if he used some oil from a salamander. In trying to get the oil, something went amiss and flames were soon out of control. —Staff Photo.

Plan Commission Gives Report On Parking

Two Boys Cause $5,000 Fire In New Home

Two Arlington Heights youngsters, 12 and 13 years old, will be taken to the Cook County juvenile court Thursday charged with causing a fire which caused $5,000 damage on a residence under construction at 827 So. Highland Sunday afternoon.

According to the confessions they made to the police they entered the home, where they found an air pressure unlighted salamander. Failing to light the heater by means of air pressure, they tipped it over. The oil became ignited. Becoming frightened the boys ran out of the house to a nearby home asking that the fire department be called.

THE HOUSE was awaiting arrival of lathers and plasterers. The interior was so badly charred that a complete reconstruction job will be necessary.

Following a tip from a bystander as to the wearing apparel of two boys who were seen to run out of a rear door, Lt. Karstens and Officers McDougall and Aldrich located the two boys and took them into custody. Juvenile Officer Edward Hinks decided the charge against the boys was serious because of possible complaint by the insurance company it was necessary that they be cited to appear in the juvenile court.

Choral Class To Give Assembly Today

The choral classes of Arlington Heights high school will present a program to the student body today (Thursday).

THE ELECTION IS OVER

During the high school bond issue campaign, this paper, as a public service, allowed the use of a vast amount of free publicity.

The election is over and with this issue, the Fence Post and news columns are closed to any further statements regarding the recent high school election. The advertising columns are, of course, still available.

Asks Proof of Camgaign Statements

The high school bond election is over but an aftermath of the campaign came to the fore this week when individual members of the high school board approved a letter to be presented to James H. Millay, as chairman of the committee of 100, which opposed the bond issue, a letter protesting the reflections which they said were cast upon the honesty and integrity of members of the board and those employed by them.

The board members stated that they cannot accept the premise that campaign methods used are acceptable in school elections, and now should be forgotten.

The letter asked the committee to name the individuals they accused . The letter closes with "if any of the accusations and insinuations which you have made are true or even if you believe they are true, are you not bound to furnish us and the public the names and the proof? . . . and further, if they are not true, to publicly admit their untruth and that they were made solely "to win the election at any cost."

The letter in full appears in the Fence Post.

Suggest Parking Meters To Solve Problem; Proceeds To Buy Off-Street Parking Lots

The following report was submitted to the Arlington Heights village board at its March 2 meeting by the plan commission. The report was placed on record and turned over to the parking committee of the village board for further consideration.

"The plan commission submits herewith its report and recommendations concerning the traffic and automobile parking situation in Arlington Heights. This report is the second phase of the commission's recommendation concerning this problem.

"THE PARKING problem with which this report is concerned consists in the main of two major problems. Parking facilities are inadequate for both commuter and for shopper. The problem for each of these situations should be considered together but it should be kept in mind the nature of the problem differs between the two.

"After extensive study the plan commission feels the most practical and acceptable approach to the shoppers' parking difficulty is the establishment of suitably located off-street parking areas to be financed through the means of parking meter installation on specified business streets. The commuter parking problem will be dealt with later in this report.

Nelson Hauff, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, has been conducting a survey among Arlington Heights businessmen and to date 40 businessmen have said they favored parking meters, 11 are against, and 7 have no opinion.

"Concerning shopper parking, the plan commission makes the following specific recommendations:

"1. That parking meters be installed in the central business districts both on the north and south sides of the town. In order to assure proper utilization of the meters, the metered area should extend a sufficient distance beyond the business district proper to eliminate the availability of nonmetered areas close to the business district. For example, a metered area would likely be: bounded on the north by St. James, on the east by State rd., on the south by Sigwalt and on the west by Vail.

"2. THAT THE income from the parking meters be used to finance the purchase or lease and maintenance of off-street parking areas. It is recommended that two parking lots be established in or near the south side business district to accommodate 150-200 automobiles and that one parking lot be established on the north side to accommodate 100 automobiles. Because of the seriousness of the parking problem, the commission recommends that off-street parking facilities be established as soon as funds for this purpose are available. In this connection we suggest that consideration be given to the issuance of revenue bonds to be secured by the pledging of parking meter income. This would permit, we believe, a more immediate realization of the off-street areas. The commission believes that it is important that suitable locations be preserved for off-street parking purposes and it is recommended that the village take steps immediately upon the installation of the meters and the pledging of the funds to secure options on suitable parking lot locations.

"3. A preliminary necessity to the adoption of the suggested parking meter program must be a more permanent approval of the one-way street system. The commission recommends, therefore, that the present one-way street traffic system be adopted by ordinance. We believe it is only sensible to insure stability of the one-way system before attempting to locate and install parking meters. It is contemplated that when the off-street parking areas have further relieved the traffic congestion, the one-way street system will be reviewed.

"4. CONCERNING the matter of commuter parking, the commission is aware of the very real problem presented by the continuing growth of Arlington Heights and its environs. It is unquestioned that the present facilities for convenient commuter parking are not sufficient to accommodate all the commuters presently using the railroad and bus systems out of Arlington Heights. The problem will increase as rapidly as the community grows. Obviously, the lack of available property reasonably adjacent to the railroad makes impossible a practical extension of commuter off-street parking areas.

"The village of Arlington Heights has grown to a size which requires a major extension of its present public transportation facilities within the village. It is our recommendation, that the village take steps at once to provide through private enterprise an adequate scheduled bus service throughout the village. This would make available and encourage the use of mass transportation by commuters and shoppers, thus directly relieving the congestion caused by the present extensive use of privately owned automobiles in the downtown area.

"5. It is further recommended that parking meters be installed in the present railroad off-street parking areas by arrangement with the railroad. These meters should be for "all day" parking. It is recommended, as a part of this program, that these facilities be improved and maintained.

"6. AN IMPORTANT remedial measure would be the establishment of a regular railroad train stop at Arlington Park, particularly during the morning and evening rush hours. This would also relieve the commuter parking problem at the Arlington Heights railroad station.

"7. The plan commission in making this report and recommendations has stated its conclusions as to what would constitute an acceptable and practical program. There is much detail work to be done in order to put the program into operation. The actual implementation and putting into operation of the program herein recommended should be carried out through the means of a village parking authority appointed and empowered by the village board in accordance with the law. It would be the duty of the parking authority to set up the program approved by the board and supervise and maintain both physical equipment and the method of operation including the location and establishment of off-street areas."

To Build Medical Center In Arlington; Ready In August

Charles H. Wilson, realtor, states Arlington Heights will soon have a much needed medical center to serve its rapidly increasing population. The proposed site, for which land has been acquired, is the Northeast corner of Northwest hwy. and Race st.

Harold A. Stahl, architect, has designed an ultra-modern one-story building of approximately 4000 square feet with brick and stone exterior. It will feature built-in winter and summer air-conditioning. There will be substantial off-street parking facilities for the convenience of patients.

THE NEW medical center will provide individual suites and a large well appointed reception lounge for 6 to 8 doctors. Wilson, who is the agent for the principals, also states that this fine new professional building will incorporate x-ray and clinical laboratories. One of the outstanding features of this new enterprise is that it will house an ultra-modern pharmacy which will also carry a full line of hospital and surgical supplies.

Wilson said construction will begin as soon as final bids have been received and it is hoped that the project wil be completed by August 1. There have been several requests for space in the new building, but actual leasing will be delayed until construction has started.

Organization Is First Step Toward Northwest Hospital

Activities of the board of directors of the Northwest Community Hospital Center association will be based in part on the interest that is displayed by the general public in subscription to cover the organization expenses.

It is estimated that between one and two thousand dollars will be needed to adequately prepare brochures, forms, and to cover other organization expenses.

"Considering the area to be served by the proposed hospital, that cost is small," says Joseph Brandt, chairman of the financial development committee.

The association for the present will confine its efforts to a general presentation of its organization plans to various civic organizations in the expectation that they will have a part in setting up the organization machinery.

Checks for that purpose should be mailed to Joseph Brandt, 10 N. Northwest hwy., Palatine, or handed to any one of the following directors: William A. Gerbosi, 300 E. Rockwell, Arlington Heights; Carl Hammerl, 312 S. George, Mount Prospect; or Roy LaLonde, 10 N. Bothwell, Palatine.

'Trade In Old Home For New One,' Says Trude

The Trude Land Development Co. Arlington Heights is offering to take homes in trade on new residences to be built by that organization. While the plan is new in this area, it has worked successfully in other areas. Mr. Trude says that his firm has recently made four such deals in Arlington Heights and has a dozen more being processed. That firm tried out the plan in Oak Park and Park Ridge and has found the plan sound.

Upon signing a contract for a new home to be built on lot owned by Trude or otherwise, Trude agrees to take over the customer's old home at a specified price as part payment. The owner has the privilege of selling the home himself within 120 days at any price that he can get.

If a private sale of the old property has not materialized within four months. the Trude organization will take over the home, at a previously agreed upon price and in turn will place it on the market through a local real estate firm.

The plan is the result of a survey made last summer in which Trude Land Development Company "found that many families who had bought homes three to six years ago had outgrown them, needed another bathroom, more bedrooms, the family had increased or most improtant, due to increase in property values plus their original down payment, they had a very sizeable equity in their home. If they had this equity money or could be assured they could sell their homes, they would like to improve their living conditions by purchasing a new and more suitable home."

Parents Of Blind Confer With Arlington School Board

In rresponse to a request for a hearing by the parents of four blind children residing in the Arlington area, the board of education of School Dist. 25 invited them to a conference, which was held Tuesday evening.

R. J.. Splitt, 906 N. Harvard, acted as spokesman for the group. The board was told that a similar situation existed in neighboring school districts and the parents involved are approaching their school boards in hopes that a room could be found in one of the schools for Braille instruction.

The school board was very sympathetic and told the parents they realized the situation they faced. They agreed with them that parents should not be required to send their children to Jacksonville for school instruction and that the board would be very happy if they could find an available school room.

Five Injured In Accident; Police Arrest 30 With No Vehicle Tags

Five persons were injured Sunday when their car overturned after colliding with another car on Rand rd., near Baldwin rd., northeast of Palatine.

Palatine Village Tax Rate Nears $4; Schools Needs High

Palatine village tax rate has risen to $3.94, the highest in its history. The need of both high and elementary schools means school tax rate increase of 48 cents for the elementary school and six cents increase for the high school. Palatine schools are not alone in their need for more money. The Palatine area that is within the Barrington high school district will be required to pay an increase of six cents and Barrington elementary school of 11 cents.

Palatine relief tax, omitted in recent years, has a rate of .046. For the first time there is a Chicago Sanitary District tax in Palatine township. Residents of Rolling Meadows will pay .246 to that body. The Palatine Park district rate has dropped slightly. School Dist. 18 dropped six cents.

New Dial Equipment Goes In Service At Arlington

New dial equipment to serve the three towns of Arlington Heights, Mt. Prospect and Prospect Heights was cut into service early last week in the telephone exchange, W. C. Lathen, manager for Illinois Bell Telephone company, announced today.

The new equipment will expand the capacity of the telephone system in this area by an estimated 520 telephones, Lathen estimated. Its installation follows weeks of testing by Illinois Bell craftsmen to insure its proper operation. Shipped here from Western Electric company last December, telephone technicians have been working steadily on the timetaking and intricate job of connecting it into this area's network of telephone communications.

Also underway is a large addition of long distance facilities which will increase by almost 50 per cent the number of switchboards where operators can handle long distance calls.

THE NEW switchboards are tentatively scheduled to be placed in service late in April, according to Lathen.

"Besides these equipment additions, hundreds of miles of wire are scheduled to be added to the cable network in this area within the next few months," Lathen observed, "supplementing the 10,300 miles of wire in cable which we placed in service last year.

"Equipment additions like those now going on are necessary if Illinois Bell is to keep pace with the growth of Arlington Heights, Mt. Prospect and Prospect Heights . . . and provide the type of service residents and business people here want. Such work is an essential part of providing good telephone service. This year alone, Illinois Bell will spend some $95,000,000 in improving and expanding telephone service throughout the area it serves."

Panel To Enlighten Parents On Teaching Methods At Arlington

The Arlington Heights PTA meeting next Tuesday promises to be a most enlightening one for curious parents. Ralph Clabaugh, superintendent of schools, will act as moderator of a four-part panel made up of teachers from all of the five public schools in Arlington Heights. These teachers, answering the questions that Mr. Clabaugh knows to be in every parent's mind, will give a detailed account of the teaching methods in the fundamental fields of learning, namely; language, spelling, handwriting, and reading.

Mrs. Eloise Fink, Miss Phyllis Casselman, and Mrs. Barbara Burton, Junior high school teachers, will make up the panel on language; Mrs. Pauline Jenness, Mrs. Ethel Henning, and Robert Belle will discuss spelling; Miss Laura Grothe, Miss Margaret Marron, and E. S. Castor of the first, third and fourth grades will cover handwriting; while Mrs. Agnes Skadberg, Mrs. Clydella Meiller, and Mrs. Helen Castor of the primary grades, will discuss reading. Questions from parents will be invited following the discussion so that no parent need feel vague about how his child is being prepared to express himself.

The meeting will open at 8:15 p.m. at the South school with the Dryden school patrol boys presenting the colors and the Dryden school mothers of the first and fifth grades acting as hostesses for the social hour following the meeting.

What a desolate place would be a world without flowers! It would be a face without a smile; a feast without a welcome.

—Mrs. Clara Lucas Balfour

CIRCLING THE TOWN

BY PHYLLIS KNIGHT

"Aid for Korea" is the current project to help others which has been going on in the public elemeneaary schools of Arlington Heights. Projects have ranged from highly ingenious ones to simply donating all the money they could earn.

One primary class decided to earn extra money by helping out at home—sweeping the basement, emptying waste-baskets, etc.—but one of the more enterprising youngsters found what was to his mind an even better idea. He had his mother bake cookies, and he peddled them to readily obliging neighbors. He had his story straight, too, for every one knew it was for the "poor little Koreans."

A kindergarten chose a hat auction as a means of raising money. At least one class had a candy sale, another a show. A white elephant sale was another popular way of filling the class coffers.

Incidentally, of course, the boys and girls learned a good bit of arithmetic—in keeping the books for the projects — and geography and history — in studying about the country of Korea and its people.

Last Chance

This week, or rather what's left of it, presents the first and last chance for people of the Arlington area to sign up for memberships in the local Community Concert association. Headquarters are in the Public Service office, Campbell and Vail, and are open all day.

Both renewals and new memberships may be signed up for now. After this week no more memberships will be sold until next year at this time. It is a Community Concert policy also to sell season tickets only, with no single admissions being available.

Community Concerts bring to Arlington Heights — and other cities where such groups are set up—the best in both vocal and instrumental music. The number of members enrolled affects both the number and type of concerts, although all artists booked through Community Concert are top-flight. Five concerts were presented during the 1953-54 season, ranging from vocalists to instrumentalists to groups.

Memberships cost $6 for adults and $3.50 for students.

Last Call for Basketball

Spectator sportsters have their last chance this week to watch high school basketball locally until next fall. Arlington is playing host in the sectional competition, which started last night and featured four schools which survived regional competition: Barrington, Evanston, Proviso and Crystal Lake.

Barrington was expected to beat Crystal Lake in the opening game last night, with Evanston and Proviso fighting it out tonight, Thursday. Winners meet in the finals Friday night, and the champion earns a place in the Sweet Sixteen. Barrington is the favorite of the tournament.

Arlington's spacious gym is a fine setting for the games, with its capacity of 4,000. Adult tickets are $1, and students' 75 cents. Games begin at 8:15. Tickets may be purchased at the high school office today for the Thursday game, and tomorrow, Friday, for that night's game.

Even though Arlington is not represented, the basketball is exciting, and it is fun to watch a team that may emerge as one of the outstanding in the state.

District First Aid Meet Soon!

The Blackhawk District of the Northwest Suburban Council will hold its first district first aid meet Friday, March 19, at 7:30 p.m. in the old gymnasium of the Arlington Heights high school. Representatives from the Nurses club, Arlington Heights, Mount Prospect and Prospect Heights, Red Cross, Telephone company, and the Public Service company will act as judges. Admission is free and the public is invited. This is one of the highlights of the spring season, so try to attend if at all possible.

Falvey on the Job

Randolph P. Falvey, new Field scout executive for the Blackhawk and Signal Hill districts of the Northwest Suburban Council, is now on the job, after his recent completion of the Professional Scouters training course at the Schiff Scout Reservation in Mendham, N. J. He is a graduate of the Missouri Valley college, majoring in the course set up for professional scout candidates. Last Sunday he attended the Signal Hill District committee meeting, and Tuesday, the meeting of the Blackhawk district committee.

He is married to a German girl from Stuttgardt. She worked in Evanston while Randolph attended the training course at Schiff. We of the "Here's Scouting" column, along with the rest of the Blackhawk District, want to extend best wishes to this new comer to our scouting family.

Maine-Ridge Scout-O-Rama

This Saturday, March 13, at the Maine Township high school, the Maine-Ridge District will put on a Scout-O-Rama. The hours will be 2 to 5 and from 7 to 9. The packs and troops of the district will have displays in booths, while the explorers will put on demonstrations of swimming, canoeing and lifesaving in the school pool. The charge for this fine event will only be 25c per person.

Units Plan For Summer

Scout Executive Stan Huntington announces that many units are now making plans for the summer. For instance, right here in the Blackhawk District, Post 107 is sending ten boys to the region 7 canoe base this summer.

Other units are planning to attend Camp Napowan, our local council camp, during the summer season, which runs from June 26 to August 14. Incidently, at the present time, Joe Miller, caretaker of the camp, is preparing the canoes and rowboats for the coming season. This year, there will be an addition put on the kitchen of the camp, along with a fifth unit, capable of accomodating 30 scouts each week.

The camping and activities committee is going to go to Camp Napowan soon to plan for the new construction as well as the annual tree planting weekend, which will be April 30 and May 1 and 2.

The council has reserved a wagon train which will last from June 22 to July 15 at the Philmont Scout Reservation in New Mexico. The price for this wonderful excursion will be $150, including round-trip transportation.

Explorer Rendezvouz

The explorer rendezvous will be held the same weekend as the tree planting, April 30 thru May 2. The site has not been decided.

All children not already affiliated with a Sunday school are welcome to enroll or attend. The project is rendered as a service to the Rolling Meadows community.

Plan Programs For Channel 11 TV

Norbert J. Hruby, 618 Campbell st., Arlington Heights, director of radio and television for Loyola university, was recently elected to the chairmanship of the program advisory committee of the Chicago educational television association.

The CETA is the organization of Chicago area educational and cultural institutions which will provide the programming for Channel 11, the educational TV station which is expected to go on the air within the year.

Members of the committee are not only setting a policy on the types of programs to appear on Channel 11, but are laying the groundwork for a stockpile of filmed shows to be seen the first few weeks after WTTW takes the air.

Hruby, 36 years old, has lived in Arlington Heights for three years. He is married and is the father of three children.

Before his appointment as head of Loyola's radio and television division, he had been assistant dean of the university's college of commerce.

He is producing a Loyola TV show on WGN-TV every Friday at 1:30 and also three weekly radio series on local stations.

High School Students To Give Talent Show

"Western Wing-Ding," the 1954 Talent Show of students of Arlington Heights high school, will present a traveling theatrical troup stranded in a small western town. When their search for an evening's entertainment proves fruitless, the troup presents its own show in the lobby of the hotel.

The evening's entertainment proves to be a variety show of 28 acts, 17 of which are group acts, including a skit by each of the four classes in school.

Soloists in the show are Virginia Rechberger, Naomi Brossart, Margaret Schorr, Butch Slottag, Sandra Stadell, Lance Jahnke, Ray Feind, Carol Koske, Ginger Cowen, Suzanne Marsh, and Adrienne Double. Ray Miller will be accompanist for some of the vocalists.

Jo Mitchell, chairman of the publicity committee, announced that tickets will go on sale this week at 50c for students, 75c for adults. Posters advertising the show are being placed throughout the district, and other plans are being developed to call the attention of the community to the show.

Two public performances are being planned, for Friday and Saturday, March 26-27.

Tickets Now On Sale For Notre Dame Concert

The University of Notre Dame concert band, which will present a concert Sunday afternoon March 28, in the Arlington Hts high school gymnasium, has had a long and tradition-wrought existence. Except for the first few years of the university, there has been an instrumental group on the campus, playing for school functions, graduations, flag raisings, sports events, and presenting concerts.

NEAR THE TURN of the century, the band was to give a concert from barges floating on St Mary's Lake, at Notre Dame, with the audience seated on the sloping bank. As the last member of the band stepped aboard the barge, it sank. No band members were lost, but there is still a full set of band instruments at the bottom of the lake.

Knute Rockne played trombone in the band in 1912 — it has never been recorded that his trombone technique matched his football ability.

First director of the band was John O'Neill, who led the band during the war between the States. Longest tenure of any director was 23 years, by Joseph Casanata, from 1919 to 1942. Joseph Casanata is the composer of "Notre Dame, Our Mother" "When Irish Backs Go Marching By," and several other songs now in use.

PRESENT DIRECTOR of the band is Robert F. O'Brien, who took over the university bands last year when H. Lee Hope, then director, left to further his musical studies at Indiana university. Along with his duties as director of the band, Mr. O'Brien teaches applied music for brasses, woodwinds, and percussion, music education and music methods in the university music department.

The band itself is composed of 55 players selected from the 120 piece marching band. There is complete symphonic instrumentation. The clarinet section includes alto and bass clarinets there are also piccolos, flutes oboes, and bassoons; the saxophone family ranges from the alto, through tenor and baritone, down to the huge bass saxophone.

THE BRASS section includes cornets, trumpets, fluegel horns, a quartet of French horns, tenor trombones, a bass trombone, double bell euphoniums, and the big bass horn.

In addition to the regular drums and cymbals, the percussion section also includes tubular chimes, bells, marimba, tympani, and many sound effects including a train wreck crash.

Tickets for the concert on March 28 are being sold by students of St. James school and music students of the high school. Student tickets are 50c, adults $1.

Women's State Literature Group Meets March 18

Mrs. George Hurley, Chicago, seventh district Illinois Federation of Women's clubs literature chairman, invites all seventh district chairmen and their friends to attend the state literature meeting at headquarters 30, W Washington st., March 18 at 1:30 p. m.

Mrs. A. J. Scodack will review the "Life of Louis Braille," and also demonstrate how music and writing is done in braille. Mrs. Byron C. Foote, Des Plaines, will speak on the manner in which the literary group of that club functions, in the hopes of helping other groups to become more active.

Second semester fiction writing classes have now started under the instruction of Miss Lucile Rosenheim, a graduate of University of Chicago. Miss Rosenheim is an author of a number of books and short stories.

Set Round-up Dates At Public, Parochial Schools

Doorbells will be ringing in Arlington Heights during the latter part of March as mothers from the public and parochial schools distribute health blanks to families with children entering school for the first time in September. These blanks are to be filled out and signed by the family doctor and dentist before a child may be registered for kindergarten this fall.

REGISTRATION dates have been set as follows:

May 3, for children who will attend the North school.

May 4, for those who will go to the New South school.

May 6, for those going to Dryden school.

May 7, for those going to Ridge school.

May 12, for St. Peter's Lutheran school.

May 27, for St. James Catholic school.

The new Lady of the Wayside Parochial school will not participate in the program this year, inasmuch as registrations for school next year were conducted by them last fall.

A word to the wise from Mrs. Charles Stewart, PTA Round-up general chairman: "If you have a child entering school in September, make appointments with your doctor and dentist now, so the necessary examinations can be completed and your child registered on the date listed above for his school."

Chairmen for this program at the various schools are: Mrs. Lambert Bredehoft, North school; Mrs. Robert Fine, New South school; Mrs. Leroy Rothenberger, Dryden school; and Mrs. Paul Wollerman, Ridge school. The St. James Catholic School Round-up will be sponsored by the Mothers' club.

NO EXAMINATION will be conducted in the schools on the day of the round-up. Parents will bring the completed blank to the school on that day, will confer with the school nurse regarding the results of the examination, and will register their child for school. In compliance with the state law providing for a physical examination before entering school, children will not be registered for school until the physical and dental examinations have been concluded.

To enter the schools conducting the round-ups, a child must be five on or before December 2, 1954, to enter kindergarten, and six on or before December 2, 1954, to enter first grade.

PTA To Hold Book Fair At South School March 20

Again one of the most popular of the PTA-sponsored ventures is about to make its appearance in our town. March 20 parents and children will have an opportunity to roam and browse among the latest offerings of the book world for children from preschool to teen age. The doors will open at the South school auditorium at 11 a.m. and sales will continue until 5 p.m.

The Book Fair is conducted by the Home and School Service under the direction of the Misses Ida Swail and Olive Flaherty, who have brought it to Arlington Heights annually for several years. The PTA receives a commission on the sale of all books, which money is used to purchase books for the school libraries. The libraries have been able to add about 225 new books to their collections from the proceeds of the 1952 and 1953 Book Fairs.

Since the Book Fair is taking place Saturday this year, Miss Flaherty will visit the schools preceding the event, carrying specimen books with her and addressing assemblies to describe what will be offered at the Fair. Experience, both in the school libraries and previous Book Fairs shows that local children want more and more books about space, science books, horse stories, and books of humor and fantasy. At the junior high school age the science angle still holds the greatest appeal for the boys, though biographies, adventure stories and teen-age family stories are also popular favorites.

The Book Fair offers welcome opportunity to parents to join with teachers and librarians in combatting the grip of television and comic books as a pastime habit. In order to preserve interest in the pleasure of reading, even authors are trying to keep abreast of the interests of young readers.

Literature Group To Hear Review

Arlington Heights Woman's club Literature and Drama Study group will meet at the home of Mrs. W. G. Edelblute March 16 at 1:30 p.m.

Mrs. James A. Smith, chairman, will introduce the well known Ester M. Baker in a book review of Pearl S. Buck's "Come My Beloved." Mrs. Baker is a former school teacher with a B.S. degree from Northwestern university. She has been doing book reviews for many years and is considered one of the best in this field.

Pearl S. Buck's "Come My Beloved," long time a controversial novel of India, tells of the struggle of three men with stubborn will and deep heart to find their true goal for the highest good. Ester Baker's review of this book should solve some of the many differences of opinion concerning this book.

Co-hostesses for the afternoon will be Mrs. Robert Bishop and Mrs. Charles Kule.

TV NEWS

By Don Hager

Everyone would like to win something valuable sometime during his or her lifetime. Most people are not that lucky, including this writer.

Allen B. Dumont Laboratory, Inc., Trans World Airlines, Inc., (TWA) Photo Service, Inc., and I have joined forces to make it possible for someone in the Arlington Heights area to win two TWA round trip all-expense tours from Chicago to Washington, D. C.

The idea for this Candid TV Picture Photo contest was originally conceived when in December I was called to adjust a new DuMont TV set at the Hal Massman home, Arlington Heights. Mr. Massman's son, Tom, wanted the TV set in perfect condition so that he could take pictures of programs on it and enter them in a contest WGN-TV was sponsoring. Tom subsequently won a prize with one of his entries.

Most of Tom's TV pictures, as well as others, are on display at our store. Come in to see them and when you see how easy it is to take good pictures, you, too, will decide to enter the contest. The pictures you can take from your TV set with even a box camera will prove to be richly rewarding, even if you do not win one of the over 100 prizes in our contest.

We will be very glad to answer any questions about the contest, and you may use the new DuMonts in our store for picture taking. However, you do not have to own or use a DuMont to win this contest—it might help because of the better pictures a DuMont can produce—but the judging will be based on the candidness or unusual, not on the actual picture quality from a photo-perfection point of view.

Be sure to call Don Hager's TV & Appliance, 11 W. Davis St., Arlington Heights, CL. 3-0700, for expert TV and radio service. Our charges are as low as can be consistent with top notch workmanship. All work is guaranteed.

In the Shadow of + + + The Steeple

by William O. McGill

This "pastry chef" has an interesting concoction on the back burner. And I want to suggest what is coming, so that you will be looking forward to it as eagerly as I am.

One of the most important events in Christian history in our time is likely to be the second Assembly of the World Council of Churches, at Evanston, in August. There will be about six hundred delegates from churches around the world, with another large group of consultants and advisors.

THEY HOPE to speak on the theme of Christian Hope. Considering that the Foreign Ministers' meeting has adjourned without much hope as I write this essay, this is a theme we all need to hear.

Well, I have invited about ten persons in ten different Christian groups to write in answer to my question, "What may the World Council meeting mean to your group?" One or another of these men may be your minister. Certainly, one of them is likely to speak to what the World Council may mean to your church group.

Shortly after Easter, we hope to begin running this series of answers. That will give us time for ten weeks of guest essays, and a few weeks to speak to any other considerations about the World Council which should be in the picture.

Since it will be so close to us, we should be fully aware of its significance and meaning, and should derive the greatest possible value from the assembly.

Your church may have been asked to accept a group of tickets to the Ecumenical Festival of Faith, which will be held in Soldiers Field, August 15. Make sure that you get yours soon.

SOME PEOPLE who have seen parts of the pageant in rehearsal tell me that it is magnificent. The director is the same person who prepared a pageant for the Presbyterians' celebration of the 150th anniversary of their board of national missions.

That packed Madison Square Garden, and they say that ten thousand people were turned away. Nobody who saw it has forgotten the great impressions it made on that group of people. There are 100,000 tickets available for the Festival of Faith, even so don't look for open spaces at Soldiers Field, August 15..

In about another month, you can look for the first answer to the meaning of the World Council of Churches second assembly.

Indian Guide Club Brings Fathers And Sons Together

One group of Apache "Indians" in Arlington Heights has found that life in the tribe runs contrary to the popular "warpath myth."

THE GROUP consists of 16 members of the first YMCA Indian Guide club here and headed by "Chief" Bob Stauber, 833 S. Beverley.

Besides Stauber and his son, Ronnie, other braves in the club are Bill Beckman and son, Jeff, Mervin Fink and son, Jerry; Roy Henken and son, Guy; Tego Larson and son, Bob; Sterling Ross and son, Terry; Bill Weissmueller and son, Billy; and Don Wheeler and son, Lang.

The Indian Guide program originated over ten years ago. An Indian guide was piloting a YMCA secretary through the Canadian wilds and as they were discussing the accomplishments of their respective races, the Indian said, "I admire the big buildings of the white men, but the white man does not know how to build sons."

And he went on to tell how the Indian father trains his son to be a man; how father and son hunt and fish together; how the boy is taught to keep the code of the tribe from his childhood days. Throughout his formative years he shares a warm friendship with his father.

THIS IDEA so captured the secretary's imagination that he brought this Indian friend to St. Louis, and the two established the YMCA Indian Guide Father and Son club. In 1933 the clut was officially adopted as a YMCA program, and it is now nationwide.

Complete with adopted Indian names and ritual, the program creates tribes oriented to the neighborhoods. Two fathers within the community usually assemble a tribe, which consists of Big Braves (fathers) and Little Braves (their sons, from 6 to 9 years of age). With all the mystery of a secret society, a father and his son adopt a symbolic Indian name.

Each tribe has its chief, wampum bearer and tally-keeper, counterparts of the president, treasurer and secretary. In addition, there are little braves on duty as Indian runners (messengers) and tom-tom beaters, who actually open and close each meeting with a tom-tom signal.

Meetings are held in the homes of families, on a rotation basis. A short business meeting is followed by games, story-telling and crafts. In summer, there are outings. Men in all walks of life meet on common ground, their need to feel close to their sons.

TRUE TO INDIAN custom, tribes have a periodic "Long House," a gathering of tribal chiefs, who plan activities. Instead of pipes, fathers may smoke cigars. Their plan, however, bears the stamp of mutual contentment. They see new tribes being formed. Two groups are now in the process of being formed in Des Plaines while others are becoming a reality in Arlington Heights. They can testify to better relations with their sons, formerly members of the "TV set. Men who could formerly give no time to their boys now are grateful to give three hours a month to them, through the YMCA program.

Al Calli of the Northwest Suburban YMCA will talk with any father or fathers interested in forming a group with his son and their friends. For further information contact the Northwest Suburban YMCA, 1488 Miner st., Des Plaines, or call Vanderbilt 4-1209.

Boy Scouts To Collect Scrap Paper On North Side Saturday Morning

Arlington Heights Boy Scouts will hold their regular north side paper drive this Saturday morning and will pick up papers at all homes located north of Northwest highway.

"It's a good way to get your spring house cleaning started early, and at the same time help the local scouts," said Larry Austin, publicity chairman for the paper drives.

Proceeds from the paper pick ups are all used locally. Scouts and scout dads are doing a wonderful job of equipping local scouting units with the funds.

Residents are asked to tie all newspaper and magazine bundles securely and place them on the curb by 9:30 a. m. The scouts would appreciate having the magazines tied separately from the papers, since the magazine paper brings a higher price. Do not place any bundles on curbs without tying or placing in boxes. This is necessary to prevent the wind from blowing papers all over the neighborhood.

Cub scouts have again been asked to ring door-bells to remind residents of the pick up. If everyone puts out at least a small bundle, the scouts can easily beat the 12 tons picked up in January.

Those who miss the pick up truck can bring their scrap paper to the North school, but it must be before noon. Do not leave paper on the school grounds if the paper trucks are not there.

Women Plan St. Patrick's Day Festival

There will be a festival March 17 beginning at 8 p.m., celebrating the feast of St. Patrick, at the parish hall of Our Lady of the Wayside Catholic church, Arlington Heights.

The festival will be sponsored by the Ways and Means and School committees of the Catholic Woman's club.

The main attractions will be a hand made quilt donated by Mrs. Henry Firnbach and Mrs. Michael Saar and a large bottle of Guerlain's Vol de Nuit Perfume donated by Mrs. Robert Lonze.

In addition a variety of booths will be in operation, such as: A planter booth, under the direction of Mrs. John J. Skahill, with a variety of house plants in interesting holders and a planter lamp; a grocery booth, under the direction of Mrs. W. J. Wysocki, with a varied line of grocery items, including a large turkey; and to help solve gift problems, a miscellaneous booth, under the direction of Mrs. Lawrence Wahrheim will be open, and chances can be taken on trays, tea sets, and conversation pieces of various kinds. Beautiful hand made linens as well as useful toweling will be available in Mrs. Paul Wulbecker's fancy goods booth. Mrs. Walter Schroeder Jr. will be in charge of a surprise package booth.

A musical cake walk will win a homemade cake from the booth operated by Mrs. Theodore A. Koenig. A revolving musical cake plate will be the feature attraction of this booth.

Eastwood Events

Community Group

Eastwood Community Association held its monthly meeting March 2 at the field house. The group would like to take this opportunity to thank the residents who braved the inclement weather to hear Harold O. Klopp. Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. Henry Wallace Mrs. Norman Hoyrn. and Mrs. Robert Kanouse.

J. E. Millay, chairman of the Committee of One Hundred, has accepted an invitation on behalf of the committee to send a speaker to the April 6 meeting of the association.

Return Home

Mr. and Mrs. William Ullock of N. Dryden returned Saturday from a three week vacation in California. While on the west coast they visited two former Eastwood families. In Arcadia, Calif., they spent a day and a half with Mr. and Mrs. Richard Nelson and their son, Jack. Their next stop was in Sierra Madre, where the Ullocks were the guests of the George Woltman family. The Nelsons and Woltmas live within close range of the San Gabriel mountains which were swept by fire and floods earlier this year. Their homes were not damaged, but much evidence of the ruins still remains in the surrounding area. Both families wish to be remembered to their friends and neighbors in Eastwood. Incidentally, the Arlington Herald is welcome news for these people each week. In VanNuys, Cal., the Ullocks visited the Wally Powells; he is the son of the E. T. Powells of N. Dryden. A return trip home on a TWA Constellation was the climax to their vacation.

Marilyn and Sharon Smith and Susan Edmonds, who are members of the Saturday Fun club under the direction of the YMCA, enjoyed their recent trips to O'Hare Field, the Field Museum and The Shedd Aquarium.

Celebrates Birthday

Mrs. Irene Beauchamp, mother of Mrs. Virginia Heitz, enjoyed her birthday quietly at home March 9. A dear friend, Mrs. Clark of Chicago, came out to spend the day and evening with Mrs. Beauchamp, a custom they have continued for many years.

Jimmy Zapp, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Zapp, is recovering from a brain concussion suffered in a fall at school last week.

So the sermon wasn't very good

Even the best "preachers" give mediocre sermons once in a while . . . and we'll all agree that not every minister is a good preacher."

But what if the sermon wasn't very good?

A happy living religion is more than a lecture. Otherwise if you don't like the lecturer — well you wish you'd stayed in bed.

But, Episcopalians have an answer to this. It's not the peculiarities of particular persons, services or sermons that make them say, "I go to church 'cause I really want to."

The Answer's Group Worship

- We worship in fellowship together.
- We participate as a group in the church services.
- We accept as a group the idea of discipline and conduct.

The sermon, of course, is subject to human weakness. But the grace received from our Lord at His table at His service is NOT DEPENDENT UPON ANY HUMAN BEING.

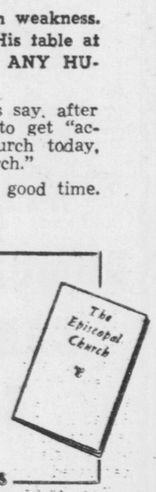

Here's what we've heard non-Episcopalians say, after attending Episcopal services long enough to get "acquainted": "When I came away from church today, I felt as though I had really been to church."

We're a friendly church. Sure, we have a good time. Our religion is a joyful one.
We invite you to come to church with us.

Miss Eleanor Jahn, daughter of William Jahn, Freeman rd., Palatine, became the bride of Arthur Savage, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Skidmore, 203 N. Belmont ave., Arlington Heights, February 28 at St. John's Evangelical and Reformed church, Algonquin rd.

Rev. Peter Beechen officiated at the 2 o'clock ceremony. Miss Dorothy Plote, cousin of the bride, sang "I Love You Truly" and "The Lord's Prayer," accompanied by Mrs. Roy Hecht at the organ. Baskets of gladioli, stock, snapdragons and carnatios, palms and caledabra banked the church altar.

The bride's gown was fashioned with a bodice of lace over satin featuring long sleeves and a lace collar and a skirt of tulle over satin. A headpiece of small beaded pearls held her fingertip length veil in place, and she carried a bouquet of carnations with white orchid center.

Miss Shirley Jahn, sister of the bride, was the maid of honor. She wore an aqua ballerina length gown and carried a crescent shaped bouquet of dark pink carnations.

Miss Loraine Polte and Miss Dorothy Jahn, cousins of the bride, were the bridesmaids. They wore pink and blue ballerina length gowns respectively and carried crescent bouquets of light pink carnations.

EUGENE CONLEY MAKES BIG HIT

The last of five Community Concerts in the current series presented the Metropolitan tenor, Eugene Conley, in recital at the Arlington Heights high school last Sunday night before a large and appreciative audience. Bringing what many agree to be one of the best voices that has ever sung from the auditorium stage, Mr. Conley sang a varied and versatile program that appealed to a wide variety of musical tastes, and left the listeners with many well known melodies to take home.

Opening the program with two of the better known works of Handel, we know that one of the most glorious voices on the concert stage was with us for the evening. The program proceeded with works of Mendelssohn and Strauss, and the first group ended with the Don Giovanni aria of Mozart. Here, perhaps, there was a bit of forcing, so that the true Mozart brilliance was lost by lack of top tone singing. Mozart is the downfall of many a musician, the supreme test of tone production, interpretation and style, and the slightest letdown of musical standard shows up in a loss of brilliance. As many of the great teachers have said, "Let me hear you sing Mozart and I will tell you what you are."

The second group of songs was brilliant with arias from Puccini's Tosca and LaBoheme, and closed with two selections from Verdi's Rigoletto. The Italian repertoire is really the artists' forte, and he capitalizes on it well. There are really only a handful of truly great tenor voices in the world today, and Mr. Conley possesses one of them; by proper singing he can make it last a long time for the benefit of his many admirers. Programs of this type are of the highest order, and the community is indeed fortunate to have such a well balanced and artistic musical series within its borders, at a reasonable cost.

The coming season is being solicited this week only, and it is hoped that the membership will grow sufficiently to embrace the top orchestras and artists of our country.

Favorites for Flavor

by LOIS SEILER

Cabbage Rolls, practically a meal in one dish, is a favorite dinner in the Harvey Zimmerman household.

Easy to make and mighty tasty, these rolls are prepared by combining a mixture of ground beef and pork, chili sauce, minced onion, egg, uncooked rice and seasoning. This meat mixture is then rolled in cabbage leaves, and the rolls are simmered in tomato soup.

As you can well imagine, this is a flavorful combination of meat and vegetables, and only need be accompanied by a tossed salad and rolls. Another nice feature of this dish is that it can be prepared in the morning and reheated before serving.

Mrs. Zimmerman, the contributor of today's recipe, has been highly recommended as a good cook, and she readily admits that she enjoys cooking and baking. Mother of two, Annette, 9, who is in fourth grade at South school, and Allan, 3, she also finds time to be a member of the Catholic Woman's club and the PTA.

The Zimmermans live at 702 S. Highland in Arlington Heights.

Cabbage Rolls

½ pound ground beef
½ pound ground lean pork
1½ teaspoon salt
1/8 teaspoon pepper
2 tablespoons chili sauce
½ cup minced onion
1 beaten egg
½ cup uncooked rice

Mix ingredients together in order given.

Take one head cabbage and wash thoroughly. Separate leaves, taking 10 large ones.

Immerse leaves in boiling water for five minutes and cover pot. Lift out carefully and drain them. Take spoonfuls of mixture and place on cabbage leaves. Tuck in ends. Roll from heart part of cabbage and tie with string.

Combine one can tomato soup and 1 can hot water. Let come to a boil. Put in cabbage rolls and let simmer for one hour. Serves about five.

Feehanville School

It seems March is a good month for birthdays, too. Congratulations are in order to Richard Baerwaldt, who was six years old on the seventh. Sandra Gerstung and Janet Gross both have March 8 for their birthday, Sandra becoming five years old on that day, and Janet 12. Another couple who chose the same day for their birthday was Arlene Deering and Pamela Guerri. Arlene was 13 years old and Pamela was 10 on the tenth. Robert Leark celebrated his fourth birthday on March 9. Another newly-become four year old in Janine Alexander, who celebrated her birthday with a family party last Sunday.

Jimmy Doetsch celebrated his fourteenth birthday last Saturday with a party at his home. Among the many teenagers who enjoyed the games and dancing were Jobie Badalamenti and Donna Huening.

Girl Scout News

Mrs. Mabel Schmitz, one of our Brownie leaders, attended a meeting at the home of Mrs. Georgia Hinburger in Des Plaines. Mrs. Hinburger is the program chairman for the North Neighborhood, and this committee meeting was held to discuss and decide upon a program for the March meeting of the North Neighborhood.

Our Camp Director, Miss Marion Hodgins, will be glad to see how many mesh bags our two troops, No. 231 and No. 233, are turning in at this meeting. The several leaders, the troop committee members, and Mrs. M. Remsing have accumulated quite a few. Children's books are also on the needed list, so if any of you have some your children have outgrown, would you please call Mrs. Rita Badalamenti, VAnderbilt 4-2291. She will be glad to arrange to have them picked up.

Our own girls here in Feehanville, Troop No. 233, still need more out-grown or worn-out cotton socks before they can start their rag rug project. If you have any tucked away in the bottom of the mending basket, won't you please bring them along with you to the next PTA meeting? Or if you will call either of the leaders or Mrs. Badalamenti, we will be glad to arrange to have them picked up.

March 3 was the day all of the Girl Scouts in North Neighborhood gathered at the Junior high in Des Plaines. In the afternoon nine of our Brownies with three of their leaders, Mrs. Mabel Schmitz, Mrs. Eva Anderson and Miss Lois Rudd, were there. In evening only five of the Intermediate Scouts were able to go, Sharon Anderson, Judy Munson, Jo Anne and Mary Jane Arkell and Kathy Swiatowy. The meeting started in the friendly Scout way by all the girls present singing the "Hello" song. The flag ceremony was next on the program, then the Pledge of Allegiance, followed by all the girls singing "God Bless America," Mrs. Stuebe, our district chairman, introduced Mrs. Orndorff, the speaker. Mrs. Orndorff showed movies of the Swiss Chalet with a running commentary, and she showed the girls various objects she had brought over with her from Switzerland, giving a little history of each. After the movies the girls all sang the Chalet song and then "Taps" before going home.

School Notes

We are happy to welcome two new students to the Feehanville school, Bonnie Shanks and Norman Shanks, who have just moved into our district.

Marlene Olson was thrilled to have her exhibit chosen as one of the two to go to the Museum of Science and Industry. It is a clever piece of work and made entirely of natural products,—all except the prehistoric monsters, of course, but their life-like postures create an illusion of activity. One dinosauer actually has a piece of green vegetation in his jaw, and it doesn't take much imagination to feel he is going to reach for another bite any minute.

The executive committee of the Feehanville PTA will meet at the School Thursday, at 7:30 p.m. There is much to do at this meeting as March is our election month. The nominating committee, Mrs. Viola Olson, Miss Idyl Nipper and our upper grades teacher, Mrs. Hazel Cavett, have been meeting once a week after school to settle on a slate. Nominations may also be made from the floor.

The Pioneer Girls surprised one of their leaders. Miss Ruth Pearson, with a birthday party last Tuesday. The girls brought ice cream, cake and pop for refreshments, and individual gifts for Miss Ruth. Miss Ruth was properly overwhelmed, and everybody enjoyed the fun and games.

Community News

Prospect Gardens Home Owners' association held their February meeting at the home of Frank Smith, chairman. After the business meeting, where local problems were brought up and thrashed out, a pleasant social hour was enjoyed by all.

There was plenty of excitement at the home of Jack Dobbratz last week end. They had guests from all points of the compass. Jack's brother, Harold Dobbratz, came in from Ohio Saturday evening. Sunday morning Jack went in to the station to pick up his father, who came in from Gardenerville, Nev. He was traveling with his employer, Mrs. Stringmeyer, who was on her way to Florida to visit her daughter, so Jack drove Mrs. Stringmeyer to the airport before taking his father home. After an early dinner, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Dobbratz took the father back to Ohio with them to see his new grandson. At 3 o'clock an old school chum of Mrs. Dobbratz' came to visit, bringing her mother-in-law who is here from California. There seemed to be no end of the activity. Jack's father was here for a four or five-day vacation in January. Prior to this time Jack had not seen his father for 20 years. Little Donny Dobbratz must have been very thrilled to meet his grandfather, as he is a chef at the Indian Creek ranch, and what little boy could not fail to make a hero of someone like that?

On Saturday, April 10, there will be an election in the non-high school portion of the Feehanville district. This is bounded by McDonald rd. on the north, Central rd. on the south, Wolf rd. on the east and River rd. on the west. All citizens in this area who have lived in the district for 30 days, in the county for 90 days and in the state for one year, will be eligible to vote. The polling place is not definitely decided on yet, but as soon as we know just where ithe election is to be held and just whom we are voting for, we will let you know. This will be on the same day as our regular school board election, so when you go to vote for your candidate in the school board eletcion, don't forget to stop and vote on the non-high school candidate, too.

WHY SILK NEEDS EXTRA CARE

The main thing to remember about silk is that, like wool, it is an organic material. It can be attacked by moths. And it is extremely elastic and thus subject to stretching, particularly during the finishing operation.

So — while it is a beautiful and desirable material — it must be handled with the care so rich and expensive a material deserves.

When you're buying silk, be sure to find out whether the garment or yardage is raw silk, pure dye silk, sized or unsized, and whether it's "weighted".

Weighted silks have a tendency to deteriorate faster than those which are not. They're the poorest of silk buys, and the extra body and sleekness imparted to them by the weighting process is merely compensation for inferior quality. THEY DO NOT STAND UP WELL UNDER CLEANING.

Sizing is not necessarily an evil in silks, if the fabric is of good quality to begin with and the sizing process is properly executed.

Cleaning undamaged silk of good quality represents no special problem. However, in finishing, care must be exercised to make certain that stretching, water marks and burning are avoided.

You can be certain your silks — as all your garments — will be properly cleaned and impeccably finished when you

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

The healing power of that faith which is rooted in a spiritual understanding of God will be brought out at Christian Science services this Sunday.

The Lesson-Sermon entitled "Substance" includes the following passage from the Bible:

"Now faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen . . . Through faith we understand that the worlds were framed by the word of God, so that things which are seen were not made of things which do appear" (Hebrews 11:1, 3).

Among the correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will be the following:

"When we come to have more faith in the truth of being than we have in error, more faith in Spirit than in matter, more faith in living than in dying, more faith in God than in man, then no material suppositions can prevent us from healing the sick and destroying error" (368:14).

The Golden Text is from Psalms: "Thy name, O Lord, endureth for ever; and thy memorial, O Lord, throughout all generations" (135:13).

Bits O' Business

Are men gradually being replaced by machines vastly more efficient than themselves? Yes, but machines are creating other, better jobs in greater number, it is pointed out in a new short history of technology . . . If you drive to a super-market to do your shopping, your future holds fewer parking problems. The chains, at least, are now seeking store sites which would provide parking lots up to five times the size of the stores, affording twice as much free parking space as they are now making available.

Committee Of One Hundred Reiterates Its Position

"The Committee of One Hundred was represented at the meeting of the high school board on Monday evening, March 8, and listened with interest to the reading of the letter of Mr. Hugh C. Kibbie, which demanded a retraction of the charges which were leveled at him in the agenda of the school board presented at its meeting on February 1."

So says an answering statement from the Committee. The committee further states that the demands of Mr. Kibbie were not met in the watered-down apology which was offered in a resolution submitted by President Elmer F. Laurin, of the school board, and passed by the board at its Monday meeting. Mr. Kibbie is still to be heard from on the offered apology of the Board.

Commenting on the action of the school board, and the statement read by Kenneth Dougan, a member of the board, the Committee says that "it is obvious that the statement is an effort to 'smoke out' the committee on charges which we may be able to substantiate later, and which it is our intention so to do."

"There has been too much 'behind the door action' on affairs which are the business of the whole citizenship. We resent the idea that there is something of royal sovereignty in the operations of the Board. We believe, and we think that a majority of our citizens join us in this, that all public affairs should be conducted in a manner which will provide all of us with opportunity to pass intelligently on our school affairs.

"We resent the lack of candor which has marked the presentations of the High School Board.

"We were told that the interest on the proposed bonds would be 3 per cent, but the ballot was drawn to provide for 'not to exceed 4 per cent' interest. This is not fair dealing, as we understand the term. Particularly it is not fair dealing in the light of the fact that recent District No. 214 bonds have sold at interest rates as high as 3¾ per cent. To further load our indebtedness with an additional burden of $2,500,000 will certainly not contribute to the vain hope that the interest rate will be the lower one of 3 per cent, on the new issue."

The Committee questions the statement that "the books of the High School Board have been audited by Mr. Albert L. Roderick." The committee seeks a complete statement of high school expenditures, with detailed explanations of the amounts paid for various items.

It repeats its statement that it abhors "executive board meetings, which may be simply the continuance of adjourned public meetings." The money spent for school operations is money to which we all must contribute—why cannot we know what goes on in these "adjourned" meetings?"

As for the protest of the school board that we willfully charge that there is something wrong in the financial records of the school—why is it not possible for us to have a cost-accounting report on the cost of various superficial activities which now take the time of teachers and students. Just what part do these things play in making our children ready to meet the problems of life?

Will it be a long step forward in seeking employment if a student can claim ability in any of these activities?

A high school board, and its members, constitute servants of the citizenship. Why isn't it possible for us to have a report on these "frill" activities if they are so important?

Our position is a simple one—we want candor and honesty before we are required to vote such a huge sum as $2,500,000 to be expended by a board in whom we have lost confidence. A few well-chosen resignations seem to be in order here, and prior to the election on April 10th, so that we could submit candidates for the resultant vacancies.

We repeat that we have no personal rancor against members of the Board. All we want is forthright representation which will truly portray the thinking of our citizens in regard to their school affairs, not a vociferous "No" from Mr. Skelton when the resolution presented by the high school board president, apologizing to Mr. Kibie is offered.

Everything happens to our children: an injured back from roller skating, broken leg from football, eye injury from a snowball. We've paid over $1,000 in medical bills in 3 years. Is there inexpensive accident insurance for school children of any age?

Gems Of Thought

FLOWERS

Lovely flowers are the smiles of God's goodness.
—William Wilberforce

The only intelligence or substance of a thought, a seed, or a flower is God, the creator of it.

Kiddies To Aid Needy In Junior Red Cross Drive

For many years the children of all ages in the Arlington Heights community area have been learning the basic creed "do unto others as you would have them do unto you." They have been sharing with those young people less fortunate than themselves.

THE FOUNDATION of service to mankind can begin here in the impressionable age. Junior Red Cross is a very vital part of the general American Red Cross program. It was set up during World War I as an educational aid in the schools. The program in many of its phases is used as a classroom aid and not as an extra-curricular activity.

The high school, junior and elementary schools both parochial and public have taken part in many of the phases of the Junior Red Cross program. This drive is entirely separate from the annual American Red Cross drive except that they both take place in the month of March. No administrative expenses are ever paid out of Junior funds; therefore, it is necessary to keep Junior's contributions separate from adult contributions.

THE ENROLLMENT-for-service campaign is a campaign for membership and for funds to support the program of service. These funds are used for (1) local service projects; (2) support of the National Children's Fund which finances the national and international aspects of the Junior Red Cross program, and (3) payment of school enrollment fees to the national organization entitling the school to Junior Red Cross magazines, (50c per classroom for elementary schools and $1 per every 100 students for secondary schools).

The Junior Red Cross is trying to teach young people to care for and share with others. There is no caring without sharing, no sharing without caring. Teaching the ways of freedom, including the freedom to join together in a good cause; our schools help us move toward high humanitarian goals through learning

WE'RE NEWSPAPERMEN

. . . Not Medicinemen

Sure, we've got a health column . . . telling you how to keep alive, how to enjoy life, how to diagnose some ills . . . But we don't take your temperature, write prescriptions, or make you cough.

COVERAGE AND SPACE IS OUR BUSINESS

Coverage means reaching LOCAL homes, not those in Gary, Rockford or Oquawka . . . Space means advertising lineage which enables the families of 45 full-time employees of Paddock Publications to eat regularly.

About Coverage . . .

Getting out a newspaper has been the job of the Paddock family the past 58 years . . . That original list of less than 500 names when H. C Paddock put his foot in the door in Arlington Heights had grown to 4,500 by 1938, then moved steadily upward to 6,-500 by 1942 . . . During World War II the list climbed to 9,000 when 1,500 servicemen received their paper through the mails.

Modern circulation history has been written since VJ-Day, when a combined distribution of 10,245 as of October 1, 1947 grew to 11,725 two years later . . . In 1951 the number had grown to 13,885 and on up to 15,305 October 1 of last year . . . Latest total taken as of March 6, 1954 reveals THE ASTOUNDNIG GRAND TOTAL OF ALL EIGHT PADDOCK PUBLICATIONS at 16,430.

That's Coverage, boy . . . Coverage of LOCAL HOMES with 9,000 going through the mail slot and 7,000 being picked up at drug stores, food stores, and anywhere else there's room to pile 'em.

Prime example is Arlington Heights where total distribution of the Arlington Heights Herald is just 200 less than the COMBINED TOTAL of all FIVE CHICAGO DAILIES on any weekday.

About Space . . .

Space to a newspaper is advertising lineage, the white space around the news that must be filled to pay 40 LOCAL correspondents gathering news of 21 communities, and 45 LOCAL full time employees . . .

It's the lifeblood of a newspaper and provides local businessmen with the opportunity to "display their wares" . . . To enable them to prosper and sit down to a full table, too.

In the past few months Paddock Publications has established new rate schedules which permit reduced lineage rates for consecutive advertisers, those men who place their name before the public week after week . . . Another step is the proof of ad, mounted on bright yellow posters, for posting in shop windows to all who ask for them . . . Both moves were made to provide advertisers with up - to - date methods of merchandising.

And when you readers enjoy looking over the local paper, taking advantage of many of the bargains offered therein, remember it's your local businessmen who cooperate with Paddock Publications in bringing one of the largest, best-read newspapers to your home 52 weeks of the year.

That's It For Today . . .

We've finished our spiel . . . We'll leave you now in the hope you like the paper, that you'll continue to buy it, and that if you don't like something that's printed, tell us . . . Or better still, tell the Fence Post and let your neighbors hear, too.

EVANSTON-PROVISO THURSDAY IN ARLINGTON SECTIONAL

THURSDAY, MAR. 11, 1954

MAC SAYS

BY G. A. McELROY

BARRINGTON IS MAKING their fifth straight sectional bid for a trip to Champaign and a berth in the "Sweet Sixteen" of Illinois basketball. Once they reached the sectional finals and were nosed out by Oak Park. This time we think they have their best chance. It may be that Crystal Lake, whom they have beaten twice this season, will be their biggest hurdle. Coach Max Brady of the Lakers has not been known to have any team beat him three times in one season.

Two years ago when Hebron won the state they could not get by Crystal Lake three times, suffering their only loss to Brady's team.

As expected, the Bronchos breezed through the Palatine regional. In spite of the fact that Barrington was a top heavy favorite, very good crowds turned out for the regional, the best in the past four years. The receipts of $3,981.60 exceeded last year's take at Arlington Heights of $3,716.00. Barrington has a terrific following and they have a team worthy of such enthusiastic support.

IF AN ALL TOURNAMENT TEAM were to have been picked, it would be hard to keep off Roy DeWitz, Elmer Saveley, Jerry Babb, and Dick Popp of the Bronchos. DeWitz was certainly the most consistent performer in the tournament and in our opinion the top player. DeWitz scored 19, 20, and 21 points in the three games for a 20 point average.

Outside the Barrington team the players who looked best to us were Jay Hook of Grayslake who scored 28 points against Arlington Heights and "Tinker" Meyer, who reached his peak play in sparking Palatine in both tournament games the Pirates played.

WHEN ANTIOCH PLAYED at Palatine a short time ago we commented to Coach Dick Scott it was too bad Antioch met Grant in the final league game and then again four days later in the regional tournament. Scott remarked it suited him fine because if they could beat them twice it would prove they had the best team in the conference.

We guess no one would dispute that now for in addition to beating Grant twice, Antioch bumped powerful Elgin out in the semi-finals and lost only by 60-58 in the final to Crystal Lake.

So it looks like Antioch, as predicted at the start of the season by this column, was the best team in the Northwest conference. With only one boy graduating from the squad, Scott's Sequoits are favored to be one of the cage powers of this area in 1954-55.

Morton now looks like the team to watch in the coming state tournament unless upset by Thornton at the West Aurora sectional. Way back in November our good friend "Bud" Nangle told us that Morton would be the team to reckon with in the tournaments. He picked them a few weeks ago to knock off LaGrange and they did it more easily than the one point margin would indicate.

IT WILL BE INTERESTING to watch what Dick Winterbauer of Arlington Heights and Norman Stenzel of Palatine do in the Oak Park Indoor Relays coming up March 27. Winerbauer, who won the shot at the state meet last year, appears headed for more record breaking performances and Stenzel, who went to the state in both hurdle events, is Palatine's big hope this year. In schools which do not have indoor track, both looked extremely good in indoor competition at the University of Chicago Relays last week.

With the Wheaton Relays being abandoned for at least one year due to the school track being torn up in a construction project, the Palatine Relays held the same day are expected to have a boost in attendance.

The usual number competing at Palatine exceeds 30 and cards sent out and returned indicate 34 are sure to come without counting any schools which ordinarily ran at Wheaton. The Palatine Relays are scheduled the last Saturday in April on the 24th.

LACK OF DEPTH in the Arlington track squad was never more evident in the relays Friday afternoon when even the manager, Lodiegard Reinke, was entered in the distance medley . . . Reinke is always out for cross country, but in the spring is Coach Attis' right hand man . . . Next week's 'A' club-faculty game will mean money for the fund that just this year has purchased for the school two indoor golf practice nets, covers for the wrestling mats, and a slow motion movie projector for use of football team and remedial reading classes . . . Those three items run into the hundreds of dollars . . . Arlington "weight coach" Bill Beckman took four boys to the Big Ten meet at Illinois Saturday . . . Of 35 boys reporting for golf at Heights are 24 nnderclassmen . . . Heights gymnastics team will be competing at Senn in Chicago Friday, with five frosh and five varsity boys going with Coach Gay Hughes . . .

For once Tommy Kouzmanoff won't have to drive 70 miles to get home after officiating tournament games . . . This time Tommy will drive exactly one mile to his home in Arlington Heights after each night's play in the sectional tournament . . .

Top varsity Cardinal at the free throw line this year was Dave Ryden, who made 74% of his 35 attempts . . . That's computed on the "honest basis", too, and not by failing to count the misses on the "one-and-ones" . . . Wayne Mueller dropped in 86 for 61% . . . State rule method of failing to count the misses on "one-and-ones" would raise the entire squad from 56% to 68%, about 6% above the state tournament average . . . Twilight league golfers, chomping at the bit, can make plans for the Paddock Publications Inter-League Handicap Sunday, August 15 . . . League secretaries are urged to again plan to use league funds to cover their loops' greens fees.

SCORE ANOTHER ONE for Arlington Heights high school graduates in college cage circles . . . Student newspaper from Northern Michigan college of education is "all Jack Clark" in its descriptions of basketball games in which Jack is hitting anywhere from 10 to 25 points per contest . . . Clark is a sophomore on a team that won 10, lost 6, averaging 80 points . . . Only five-feet-ten Jim Hunter of Terre Haute, Illinois, finished his high school cage career with 2,103 points in four years, an average of 32 per game . . . "T. H." has just 36 students . . .

Chaffin Hook Haviland Floyd Grennell

Eck, Sirotzki Make 2nd Team In NW Loop

Scoring ability was the main asset in selection to the Northwest conference all-star team in this age of emphasis on offense. On the coaches' all star team are boys who can really hit the basket with the leading point getters winning berths on the first team.

Antioch's fine juniors, Ben Floyd and Mike Haviland, both made the first five. Floyd was all conference last year as a sophomore when his team was undefeated. His all around polished play made him a sure repeater.

He was consistently good in all departments and the stand out player in all games where the competition was especially tough or there was much at stake. He averaged 38% from the field and 70% from the free throw line.

Mike Haviland, Antioch's little red headed flash, was a high scorer and a good feeder. He led Antioch's fast break and was a real ball hawk. Haviland scored 200 points to rank 4th in the conference.

JAY HOOK of Grayslake took the scoring title with 257 points. He has been a regular for three years and was second all-conference a year ago. A large percentage of Hook's points were scored from out beyond the free throw line.

Bill Grenell, the best team leader in the circuit, paced Grant's team to a co-championship.

Grenell was a skilled ball handler, and dribbler, and a dead shot. His smart play and fine team work helped make a team of average ability into one of the top competitors of the area. Grenell had 242 points for second place.

WHOLE CONFERENCE was short on centers this year. Glen Chaffin, Ela's six-foot-three pivot man, was a good rebounder, third in league scoring (with 206 points) and most consistent at his position. Without him Ela-Vernon would have been near the bottom of the conference.

Two juniors and a sophomore are among the second team selections. Gene Jaskot of Wauconda was an outstanding defensive and offensive player and ranked 5th in the league in scoring with 193 points, though only a soph.

He had poise and skill way beyond the usual second year player and should be a big help to the Bulldogs the next two seasons.

Alan Eck, Palatine junior, led the Pirates' fast break offense and ranked well up in the scoring. Eck's greatest accomplishment was a 25 point effort which helped Palatine beat Antioch, the league champs, in an overtime game. Eck was probably the fastest boy in the league and scored equally well on long shots and drive ins under the basket.

KEN SIROTZKI is rated by Bensenville Coach Novatny as just as good as a junior all-conference Dick Syzmonik was for the Bisons last year as a senior. At five-feet-seven Sirotzki was the best little man in the league.

His main value was in setting up scoring situations for his team mates. Still he ranked 7th in league scoring with 181 points and led the loop in free throwing with a total of 75.

Dennis Punches was the work horse of the Wauconda team and their most valuable player. He was a consistent 12 point a game scorer and play maker for the team. Al Guetzloff, a forward, was picked for second team center because of his six-foot-two height, his fine rebounding, and a fine shooting percentage of 45. He was second high Grant scoring behind Bill Grenell and a consistent performer.

AMONG THE BEST of the boys who were not picked on one of the two teams were Bill Long, very fine forward for Bensenville; Bert Heuer, also of the Bisons, who was limited to five games by eligibility but averaged 15 points and would have been the class of the centers on a full season basis; "Tinker" Meyer of Palatine who gave the Pirates the confidence to win 11 out of 13 games after the holidays; Bob Boyd, a fine soph made two wins possible for a weak Glenbrook team; and Jim Hilbun, a real comer as a junior guard for Ela-Vernon.

The tournament drew well three of four nights with total receipts of $3,981.

Faculty 'A' Mens Game At Arlington Tuesday

The "secret meetings" behind locked doors at Arlington Heights high school are being used this week to plan the faculty men's attack on the cage court against the "A" club in the annual fund-raising game Tuesday night, March 18. Contest will start at 8 p.m. with the usual pre-game ceremonies holding forth.

Athletic director Wally Grace will be coaching "his boys" against the letterman's club, including boys other than those competing in the cage sport with the regular teams. His plans have been hidden from this writer, except "we might let the 'A' club win this one, just to keep them from getting discouraged." The faculty lead, 5-3, in over-all series.

ONE IDEA certain to go down in the annals of history, however, is Coach Grace's idea of placing nothing but left-handers on the lee side of the court, and nothing but right-handers to starboard. If the plan works, it may revolutionize basketball as much as the elimination of the center jump.

The faculty men have been working out at home, getting "in shape," and calling on their wives for costumes for the big game. Among the 26 men available for the game, fans are certain to see "the long, the short, and the tall" against the "youh of today."

FACULTY MEN slated to be "on view" for fans will include Carl Nelson, Bill Beckman, John Ligon, Bob Kemman, "Bus" Ormsbee, Bruno Waara, Nelson Lowry, Maurice Klotz, Howard Lester, Dick Mudge, Russ Attis and Gay Hughes.

Others include Ken Schaller, Al Kulieke, Curtis Larsen, Don Carmichael, Fleet Combs, Reuben Conrad, Ed Fischer, John Griffith, Larry Jenness, Wade Meiller, Gene Oliver, Al Snap, Ed Spacapan and George Torhan.

Admission is fifty cents to all

35 Out For Golf Squad At Arlington High

Thirty-five boys reported to Coach Curtis Larsen for golf at Arlington Heights high school last week. First outdoor practice will depend on the weather, though indoor driving practice is slated for Monday, March 15, in "the shooting gallery" of the high school.

That "shooting gallery" includes shooting of football pictures only, by the way, and is under the steps of the gym. The long, narrow room is just the thing for the golf squad to practice driving, now that the "A" club has purchased two practice driving nets for the golfers, at a cost of $310.

THE FUNDS for this net were raised by the club through activities such as the faculty-letterman's club game Tuesday night of next week. Past purchases by the "A" club are many, and have saved taxpayers several thousands of dollars.

The nets are much like the baseball pitching enclosures seen at so many amusement parks, with a target in the center. Back to back, the nets will provide indoor practice time for Coach Larsen's golfers.

THREE LETTERMEN will no doubt head the Heights links squad this year. They include seniors Dick Hauff and George Skelton, plus sophomore Bob McDonald, son of the pro at Rob Roy country club.

Nineteen matches are planned. The thirty-five boys reporting include four seniors, seven juniors, eighteen sophomores and six comers.

Card Gymnasts Lose To New Trier

"We may not have won, but we're gaining on them," stated Arlington Heights gymnastics coach Gay Hughes as he told of a 14 point defeat of his boys at New Trier Tuesday afternoon of this week. Previously the north shore squad had taken Heights by 22.

The New Trier school is an old hand at gymnastics. One of Hughes' goals since beginning the sport at Arlington two years ago has been to defeat the Winnetka school. He may reach his goal next year, inasmuch as only one senior was used by Hughes in losing, 82½-68½, with all other boys sophomores, while New Trier was composed almost entirely of seniors.

HEIGHTS FIRSTS were taken in both tumbling and on trampoline, with Mike Werner copping in both cases. Bob Hawk finished second and Bill Malcolm third on trampoline to give the locals the only clean sweep of the meet. In tumbling Hawk was third, Malcolm fourth.

On the long horse it was John Koeppen third, Bob Hawk fourth, Dick Kimbrough sixth. On the rings Dick Neiland and Koeppen tied for fourth, Mike Werner took sixth.

INITIAL EVENT of the meet was the side horse, with Fritz Snyder finishing second, and Koeppen and Tom Pendleton tying for third. This gave Heights a 12-10 lead, the only time the Cards were ahead throughout the day.

On horizontal bar it was Koeppen third, Bob Baas fifth and Neiland sixth. On parallel bar Koeppen ranked fifth. Baas sixth and Kimbrough seventh.

Arlington had taken a clean sweep on trampoline before against New Trier, but major scoring improvement was Werner's first in tumbling gained by a back flip with full twist developed since Mike competed in the earlier event.

Arlington will not be competing, running in the new Evanston relays, instead.

Sweet 16 Berth Is The Stake In Friday's Final

It'll be North Suburban vs Suburban league in Arlington Heights sectional tournament play Wednesday, Thursday and Friday nights of this week as first and second place Barrington and Crystal Lake battle it out Wednesday, and second and third place Evanston and Proviso meet Thursday p.m.

The North Suburban race was a close one this year, in spite of Barrington going undefeated. Right on their heels right down to the wire was Crystal Lake's Tigers, who finished second. The Bronchos were favored in the Wednesday affair, but had the almost impossible job of defeating the Lakers for the third time this year.

IN AN EVEN Suburban league schedule this year, Evanston finished second to Morton. In third spot was Proviso, with the two teams meeting Thursday night. Morton is in the West Aurora sectional, so it will be up to the also-rans to carry league honors against the North Suburban representative in the tourney final Friday night.

All games, single affairs each night, will start at 8:15. Athletic director Wally Grace has reminded fans that the large, 4,000 seat gym provides a lot of seats for fans, but advises those attending to be in the gym about a half hour before game time for better selection.

ADMISSION PRICES for all three sessions are $1.00 for adults and 75c for students with identification. Tickets are on sale at both Palatine and Arlington Hts. high schools each morning for the evening's session.

A full house is anticipated both Thursday and Friday nights, though the supply of tickets is not expected to be exhausted with a capacity of 4,000 seats available.

Officials for the tournament are Tommy Kouzmanoff of Arlington Heights and James A. Paterson of Crete.

Four Arlington Cage Teams Tallied 3,187 Points During Past Season

Heights Squads Won 31, Lost 35 Contests

Arlington Heights basketball squads, all four of them, lost the 1953-1954 season, 3278-3187. That's the grand total of points tallied against and for the local Cardinals posted this week by Paddock Publications in the annual "swan song report" on the cage sport.

Suits have been hung up by all concerned and only the sectional and Sweet Sixteen tournament next week are getting attention of basketball fans nowadays. The season is over for Heights with only the naming of letter winners and other awards by the varsity remaining.

These will be released next week, along with Paddock Publications' publication of the West Suburban conference all-star team pictures and data. Arlington's four teams won 31, lost 35 games.

THE VARSITY finished the season against Barrington in the Palatine regional final against Barrington. The loss was the 15th against nine victories.

The Cardinals finished the league season in a tie for sixth place with a 4-10 mark. Overall, the locals had a 9-15 record, including five victories in two tournaments. They won the championship of the Libertyville holiday tournament during the holidays.

Individual scoring found Wayne Mueller at the head with 242 points. Second and third were Dennis Maher with 178 points and Larry Slinkard with 169. Bob Turner was fourth with 143, Roger Thomas next with 137.

RANKING SIXTH is Jack Riggs with 117 points. Riggs, Maher and Mueller will all be back next year, meaning 537 of the team's 1294 points will be returning.

Paddock Publications, contrary to state rule in the case of "one-and-one" free throws, has counted free throws attempted as every one tossed at the basket, and not ignoring those missed in the case of "one-and-ones."

On that basis top expert at the charity line is Dave Ryden with 26 successes in 35 attempts for a 74%. Team average is 56%. Team average on "the rule basis" is better than 10% higher, according to Coach Howard Lester.

THE FROSH-SOPHS won 11, lost 7, for Coach Maurice Klotz. Three year mark of Klotz includes a third, first and second in the West Suburban league with only LaGrange heading the local second year five this season.

The team improved considerably during the year, with six boys seeing most of the action. These six boys were about equal in ability, though Dick Siech showed the most improvement during the year, swishing through seven baskets in that season final against Maine.

THE TEAM BROKE four records during the season. The 86 points against Palatine, and the combined 127 total were frosh-soph records for the gym. John Sujack's 38 points was an individual frosh-soph gym record. The combined total was broken again in the final against Maine when Heights beat Maine, 72--56 for 128 points.

Top scorer for the season was Sujack with 278 points. Bill Randag tallied 204, Wayne Malzahn 160 and Dennis Striegel 144, good totals for boys who will be on the varsity squad next year.

Sujack was most accurate at the free throw line, too, as he made 65% of his total attempts.

THE FROSH presented an interesting situation of all-'round scoring, as the forwards tallied 234 points, the centers 158 and the guards 175. Coach Carl Nelson's boys split, 7-7, over the season. After losing the first four games, the yearlings copped four, lost two, won two, lost one, won one, if you're still with us.

Center Bill Palmer tallied 116 points with Paul Brown carding 91. In third place is Pat Brownell with 84, with Alan Ragland's 77 close behind. Dan Vittum and John Willie alternated at guard positions to score 41 and 37 points.

MOST ACCURATE freshman cagers at the free throw line were Pat Brownell and Tom Jacobsen, both of whom hit 50%. The team sank 45% of their shots.

The junior-varsity won 4, lost 6, in an unusual schedule of little-comparable contests. The team was usually composed of varsity reserves against varsity junior, but sometimes had varsity juniors playing, too, including regulars from the varsity starters. Most opponents followed the latter policy, providing unequal competition in many games.

Because of the policy of Coach Howard Lester in changing junior-varsity roster from game to game, individual scoring records are regarded as useless and none have been compiled by Paddock Publications sports department.

Next year the Heights JVs will probably follow the pattern of Barrington, Dundee, Waukegan and most West Suburban schools in having junior members of the varsity play a complete JV schedule. Fewer boys "get to play" other schools in this system, but with added game experience for the juniors, it will supposedly pay off in better teams by the time the boys are seniors.

Trotter-All-Star Tilt At Stadium April 4

Raymond J. Meyer of DePaul University, Chicago, and John "Honey" Russell of Seton Hall University were named as head coaches for the 1954 College All-American squad which will oppose the fabulous Harlem Globetrotters in the fifth annual, coast-to-coast "world series" of basketball.

The three-week series will open in New York March 29, and will feature a matinee game at Chicago Stadium Sunday afternoon, April 4. Traveling by chartered airliner, the teams will meet in 20 cities, including an outdoor engagement in Los Angeles Coliseum on April 11.

A year ago, under the guidance of Meyer and Russell, the 1953 college stars bowed by a 14-7 margin to the Globetrotters in the highest scoring series in the history of the event. Playing before a total of more than 308,000 spectators, the teams turned in a brilliant series that included a triple overtime victory by the collegians and another triumph by a 100-91 score which marked the first time any opponent ever scored 100 against the Trotters.

Barrington Trips Arlington To Take 5th Regional Title

Barrington high school annexed their fifth straight regional basketball championship in a row last Friday night at Palatine when they racked up their high total of the season to whip Arlington coached by Harold Gaffney beat Glenbrook, 66-34, in the first round and Palatine, 71-55, in the semi-finals.

As was expected Barrington had little trouble in the tournament. Arlington stayed with the Bronchos temporarily in the first period when Dave Ryden and Dennis Maher put the Cards in front at the start with two quick baskets. Midway in the quarter Gaffney sent in Vance Stayner as a sub at forward and he promptly hit three in a row to pull Barrington ahead 20-13 after eight minutes.

The Cards made it a good game through the first half, trailing by 11 points, 40-29 at the intermission. Thereafter Barrington outscored Arlington by two to one.

CAPT. ROY DEWITZ with 19 points and Vance Stayner with 18 led the Barrington attack but Elmer Saveley scored 12 and Dick Popp and Jerry Babb 11 apiece to pile up the record Barrington total.

Jack Riggs scored 10 and Wayne Mueller nine for Arlington. In spite of 52 fouls only one player was disqualified with five fouls. Barrington hit 30 of 38 entries and Arlington Heights 27 of 35 from the free throw line.

ARLINGTON advanced to the finals by beating Wauconda on Thursday night 51-47. The Cards trailed until the last minutes when Roger Thomas and George Skelton tied the count and put the Cards ahead 44-42. Free throws movd the count to 48-42 before Wauconda recovered from the jitters and made another bid, but it was too late.

Wauconda had led 28-24 at the half and 38-32 going into the final period. Roger Thomas scored 15 and George Skelton 11 while Denny Maher had nine for Arlington. Harold Bass scored 17 and Don Smith 11 for Wauconda.

BARRINGTON rolled up a lead of 31-5 by the midpoint of the second period before Palatine hit from the field and then went on to beat the Pirates 71-55 in their semi-final game. The Bronchos made good on 12 of their first 16 shots from the field to gain a lead that was impossible to overtake. Once Palatine started hitting with "Tinker" Meyer hitting three in a row the margin was narrowed to 33-19 at the half. Barrington outscored Palatine 38-36 in the second half.

Jerry Babb who sank five baskets in the first quarter piled up a total of 26 points for the game on 11 from the field and four free throws. Roy DeWitz scored 21 and Oberst 11. For Palatine Alen Eck got five from the field and six out of six free throws for 16 points while "Tinker" Meyer tallied 12 and Larry Hapke 10.

He is Ray Smith, 5-11, 188-lb. halfback named to the All-Navy honor team while at Camp Pendleton in 1952, and chosen on the second All-Service eleven after playing at Camp Lejeune, N. C. last season. He was signed on the enthusiastic recommendation of George Connor's brother, Jack, who was quarterback at Lejeune last season.

LaGrange Falls To Morton In Regional Final

Morton High school of Cicero Friday ended La Grange's rule as Illinois state prep school basketball champion by beating the Lions, 65 to 64, in the final round of regional tournament competition in the Riverside-Brookfield High school gymnasium before an overflow 4,500 crowd.

The victory qualified Morton's Mustangs to meet Kankakee St. Patrick's Thursday in the opening round of the Aurora West sectional meet.

A pair of speedy, 5 foot 10 inch guards, Sam Tisci and Don Matuszak, who between them scored a total of 33 points, led the Morton victory march. Ted Caiazza, La-Grange's giant center, topped the scorers, as usual, with 29 points. He was charged with three personal fouls early in the game, and, as a result, was pulled out from his customary spot under the basket.

LA GRANGE, which had walloped Morton, 82 to 39, in regional competition last year, got the jump on the current Suburban league champions, tho an early 7 to 1 margin was the Lions' biggest advantage.

Morton did not go ahead until three minutes before the first half ended, when a pair of free throws by Tisci made the score 29 to 28 for the Mustangs.

A big third quarter, in which Morton had a 16 to 7 edge, settled the game. La Grange fought back valiantly in the fourth period but could not catch up, tho Caiazza made two baskets in the final minute to bring his team within one point of a tie.

Tickets On Sale For Olson-Gavilan Bout

Tickets for the Bobo Olson-Kid Gavilan middleweight championship bout in the Chicago Stadium April 2 went on sale Monday.

The 15 round bout between the welterweight champion and the middleweight king has stirred more interest in Chicago boxing circles than any fight since the Rocky Graziano-Sugar Robinson bout April 16, 1952.

Springer Spaniel Club Holds Annual Meeting

English Springer Spaniel field trial club of Illinois held their annual meeting and banquet in Sherman hotel, Chicago, Saturday, March 6.

Highlights of the club's 21st anniversary was the Danforth trophy given by Mr. and Mrs. Phil D. Armour Jr. to Mr. and Mrs. John Pirie Jr. Mr. Pirie's springer, "Picket Fence Batters Tony." This springer took the highest number of points at Open-age trials during 1953.

Mrs. Milton E. Parker of Barrington is a charter member of the English Springer Spaniel field trial club of Illinois.

Sportsman's club of Chicago will hold a spring trial at Rtes. 41 and 176 March 28 at Lake Bluff. Their amateur stake will be for handlers who have never ran a dog in a stake before. Field trial clubs feel new members and dogs are essential for continuation and progressiveness of field trials.

The Central States field trial club will give their annual banquet April 3 awarding the Martin Hogan trophy.

Bruce Edwards Now At Third For Cubs

The Cub cast for 1954 is likely to feature more new faces than have been seen in Chicago's Wrigley Field for many years.

Of the 40 players reporting to Manager Phil Cavaretta here in Rendezvous Park for pre-season training, 17 are making their first appearance as big leaguers in a spring camp. In addition, there is Bruce Edwards, the famous catcher with Brooklyn and the Cubs before a sore arm felled him, who is making his first big league bid as a third baseman.

Another not in the true rookie crop of 17—but still very much rated a newcomer—is right hander Don Watkins, who was in the Cub camp in 1950, and is now coming back after a three-year (1950-51-52) siege with a sore arm. Watkins was 14-10 last season with the Des Moines Western league champions, managed, incidentally, by this same Bruce Edwards, who hit .319 and fielded sensationally at the hot corner.

Palatine 4th, Arlington 5th, In 'Uni' Relays

University	64-1/2
Morton	44-1/3
Riverside-Brookfield	1/3
Palatine	30-1/2
Arlington Heights	28
Thornton Fractional	25-1/2

Palatine took fourth with 30½ points and Arlington Heights was fifth with 28 in a six school invitational indoor track and relay meet held at the University of Chicago Fieldhouse last Friday afternoon. University High took first with 64½ points and Morton of Cicero was second and Riverside-Brookfield, third. Thornton Fractional finished sixth.

Dick Winterbauer of Arlington Heights broke the meet record and his own state winning mark of last year by tossing the 12 pound shot 55 feet 1 inch. Norman Stenzel of Palatine took first in both the high and low hurdles. Bob Kozy of Palatine high jumping without any practice took second with five feet eight inches.

STRIEGEL of Arlington Heights was third in the shot and Werner took fourth in the broad jump for the Cardinals who captured second in the sprint medley. Palatine got second in the distance medley with Carl Bondeson, Alan Eck, Paul Hess and Leonard Wiese doing the running. Bob Fremd of Palatine took a third in the pole vault without having had a chance to practice his specialty.

It was a good start for the teams of Coach Attis of Arlington and Coach Welty of Palatine, both of whom expect to have strong track squads this season.

SHORT-HANDED Card coach Russ Attis threw manager Lodiegard Reinke in the breech with Lussow, Aldrich and Rankine in the distance medley. In the sprint medley for Arlington it was Hornbostel, Malcomson, Frisk and Sheppard in 3:58.5 with Sheppard's 2:08 half outstanding.

The two mile relay had Hornbostel, Sheppard, Rankine and Waterman running with Werner, Malcomson, Frisk and Ellis running the 880 relay in 1:44, three seconds off the pace in spite of an R-B man falling in the midst of the second exchange of batons for Heights.

Cincinnati To Try Use Of Yellow Bases

The first innovation sprung in a game at the Cincinnati Reds camp is yellow bases, with all markings on the playing field also in yellow, instead of the customary white.

Permission to go contrary to the playing rules, which specify that the bases and all markings shall be white, was obtained by General Manager Gabe Paul of the Reds from Warren Giles, president of the National League, for training camp use of the yellow on an experimental basis.

Kitsos To Give Baker And Banks A Run For Infield Spots

There are many here with the Cubs who believe the rookie keystone combination of Ernie Banks and Gene Baker will send veterans Roy Smalley and Eddie Miksis to the bench, but they have yet to convince one fellow—a hustling, peppery youngster from Brooklyn named Chris Kitsos.

It's perfectly alright for Smalley and Miksis to ride the bench as far as Kitsos is concerned, but the 25-year old kid from Brooklyn intends to give Banks and Baker a battle for a job in the Cub keystone.

Although rarely hitting for a high average during his minor league career, Kitsos has been the sparkplug of every team he's played for.

Last year Chris hit only .219 average for Des Moines, yet was an important factor in the club's championship season. He got 122 walks, an all-time Des Moines record. He was at bat 499 times and got on base, excluding errors, on 210 occasions for a .421 average.

Kitsos didn't wait long to make his first impression when the Cub camp in Mesa opened. Manager Phil Cavarretta had the shortstops and pitchers working on the pickoff play at second base. There wasn't any doubt as to who did the best job of the infielders—the pepper-pot Kitsos won hands down.

Field Trial Exhibitions

Sporting dogs in action will again be a feature of the Chicago all-breed purebred Dog Show when the 14th annual event sponsored by the International Kennel Club to be held on April 3 and 4 in the International Amphitheatre, officials of the show announce.

The Chicago show is famed for having the largest setting of any indoor dog show in the country in the 6-acre International Amphitheatre.

A 50,000 sq. ft. section will be converted into a game cover, and a large tank installed, where entries in the Spaniel and Retriever stakes will compete in both land and water events. Bleacher seats are to be provided for the field trial spectators.

Three well known Illinois Field Trial men will judge this event. Included in the group is Edward M. Carey of Dundee. Also B. F. Genty, of Lake Bluff, and Dan W. Haigh of Dolton.

They are in addition to the 22 judges from 10 states and Canada who are judging the conformation classes. The club predicts entries of over 2200 dogs from leading breeders and kennels of the United States and Canada by the final closing date - March 22.

Competitive judging of all the breeds -rare and well known ones - will feature America's top dogs from 10 A.M. to 10 P.M. both days in the judging rings of the International Amphitheatre's main arena which has seating for 8000.

National Dog Week

The National Dog Welfare Guild, the organization which sponsors National Dog Week, announced that this year the three main objectives of the group would be of great importance and especially so to those folks living in Illinois. These goals are: Elimination of stray dogs from the streets; better informed dog-owners; And fair laws for dogs and dog owners.

These objectives are particularly significant this year, when the person in all towns and cities where people and dogs congregate.

The Guild is trying to arrive at a workable and intelligent solution to the problem.

Barks & Bays

Speaking about where people and dogs congregate - there is a dog for every child in the Atomic Energy City of Los Alamos, N. M. Now if the scientists can figure out a way to harness all that energy that must take place each day when the youngsters are out with their dogs - they will really have something.

Someone asked, after the article about "Handsome Dan" a few weeks ago, who did really own the first bulldog mascot of Yale University. In answer to the question "Handsome Dan", Yale's original bulldog mascot who is preserved in glass at the University, was owned by A. B. Graves of Farmingdale, N. Y.

Bears Sign Two More

The Bears received signed contracts yesterday from Guard Joe Faragalli, their no. 12 draft choice at the National Football League meeting in January, and Joe Koch, a strapping backfield prospect denied a debut as a rookie last season because of injuries received in a pre-season game.

Faragalli, 6 feet and 228 pounds, was rated one of the best college linemen in the east for the past three years. He captained Villanova last fall and was drafted on the recommendation of his line coach, ex-Bear guard Eddie Michaels.

Koch, 6 feet 1 inch, 205 pounds and a Marine corps veteran, was drafted by the Bears a year ago after having been selected as the most valuable player in the Southern Conference for 1952. He starred at Wake Forest as a halfback, fullback and quarterback on offense as well as seeing considerable service as a linebacker and defensive halfback.

GI Trainees Must Report Earnings

The nation's 50,000 World War II veterans taking GI bill farm training were reminded by the veterans administration that reports of their 1953 earnings are due at their VA regional offices no later than March 1. The total includes 1270 Illinois veterans.

Failure to submit the reports by the deadline, may result in discontinuance of GI subsistence payments until such time as the reports do reach VA.

Trainees who haven't yet received the report forms may obtain them from their instructors.

Destroy Moth Larvae

Entomologists say that the material of which moth eggs are made serves as the first meal of larvae after they are hatched. From that time on, however. the insects have a passion for overcoats, suits and furs. Price is no object. They are attracted to the finest garments as well as those from the bargain basement. All effective ways to frustrate the destructive insects is to store your woolens in a cedar closet, where the aromatic fumes will kill the larvae.

Bogus Money of Sachsenhausen Still Turning Up In Europe

by BILL DILLINGHAM

From time to time, the bogus money of Sachsenhausen still turns up. European bankers estimate that it will be a number of decades before the monetary market is completely free of these counterfeit bills.

As most banking employees know, well over five hundred million dollar's worth of currency was printed by Himmler's team working within the confines of the Sachsenhausen concentration camp Of this sum, however, a good deal is alleged to be accounted for by fire and confiscation.

WHEN THE AMERICAN army advanced on Sachsenhausen, one hundred and forty counterfeiters were given their liberty — the greatest number of such workers ever to be set free at any one time — and official statements led one to believe that the bogus notes were accounted for. This, however, stands in serious doubt.

These counterfeited notes were made by the "cream" of professionals. The result was that it became difficult for the Bank of England to distinguish the bogus from the authentic. When this happens, confidence in a currency is severely weakened. As an aid to counter-acting this damage—partly being psychological, information was released that led everyone to believe that all the notes had either been found or burned.

ON SEVERAL occasions rather recently, however, large quantities of currency have been found that seems to have had its birth at Saachsenhausen. In Austria, for instance, just several months ago the police discovered a cache of bills that were so well printed that they were at first believed to be authentic. No great purlicity is given to the Sachsenhausen affair, however, because such information could seriously affect the value of the British pound in free-market circles.

Of the five-hundred millions that were printed by Himmler's group, only about three million were good enough to fool English banking officials. This probably isn't very much consolation to Europe's bankers, but it indicates that the situation could have been a lot worse than it presently is.

DOLLARS, TOO, have made their debut with substantial success. For a long time it was extremely difficult to cash an American fifty-dollar note. Hotels and travel agencies would either reject the note or send a messenger rushing over to the bank for verification. Some of the smaller banks even set the rule of accepting no fifties.

There were so many of this bogus denomination around Europe that banks would oot put a fifty into circulation. There was a temporary boycott on this note as an attempt to isolate all counterfeit fifties. Now, however, the situation is much closer to being cleared up, both with dollars and pounds. Nevertheless, from time to time here in the Continent a Sachsenhausen note still appears.

Auto Show To Open Saturday In Chicago

The 46th annual Chicago automobile show opens to the public Saturday afternoon, March 13.

International Amphitheatre's 152,000 square feet of exhibit space will glitter with 1954 model automobiles of all American makes, with commercial vehicles ranging from pickups to truck-tractor combinations and with automotive equipment ,accessories and allied displays.

More "dream cars" than ever before will be unveiled by manufacturers who constantly penetrate the automotive future with experimental designs to survey public taste trends and new techniques. Other passenger car exhibits will be illumined with animated displays, fashion shows, entertainment and other special attractions on a lavish scale.

ADDING SPECIAL interest for those interested in engineering advancement is the new and experimental Winners' Circle, an assemblage of achievement cars distinguished for competition victories and record assaults. Driving champions will appear with several of these famous stock and special racing cars.

While show hours are abbreviated on opening day, the brilliant stage revue "Wheels of Progress' will unroll on its regular twice-daily schedule. Matinees at 3:30 and evening performances at 9:00 will prevail throughout the nine-day show period.

Admission price at all times is 90 cents including tax, Goodwin said, with half price prevailing for children under 12.

Barrington postal receipts continue to rise.

At the end of February, receipts totaled $108,384.84. That is an increase of more than 60 per cent over the corresponding period in the previous year, and is greater than receipts for the entire year only three years ago.

The Barrington office went to first class only ten years ago when it topped the $40,000 mark required to lift it out of the second class.

Need Rain To Return Crystal Lake Level

Continued below normal rain and snow in 1954 to date is resulting in the water level of Crystal Lake continuing about 3 feet below normal. During February with about 1.53 inches of rain and 3 inches of snow the water level has risen a few inches, indicating that heavy rains between now and spring could restore the level to normal The normal precipitation for February is 1.89 inches of rain and 8½ inches of snow

Modern Etiquette

by ROBERTA LEE

Q. I have received wedding gifts from out-of-town relatives of my husband, whom I've never met. What salutation should I make to each of these in my thank-you notes?

A. Address each relative as your husband does — as "Aunt Mary," "Uncle John", or "Cousin Bill."

Q. If a cup of coffee is filled up to the very top, is it all right to lean over and take a few sips in order to avoid any spilling?

A. No. It is better to use both hands to lift the cup on its saucer, and then sip.

Q. When a woman asks the attendant in a public restroom to lend her a needle and thread for making some small repair, should she tip the attendant?

A. Yes, this is expected.

Q. What is the correct way to write one's acceptance, or regrets, to a formal invitation?

A. "Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Smith accept with pleasure (or regret they are unable to accept) Mr. and Mrs. William R. Johnson's kind invitation for Saturday, the twelfth of December."

Q. I am being married for the second time. Is it proper for my married daughter to announce my marriage?

A. No. The marriage should be announced in yours and your husband's name.

Q. How close to the edge of the dining table should the silverware be placed?

A. The ends of the handles should be placed about an inch from the table edge.

Q. Is it always proper to smoke in another person's home?

A. Not always. It is still considered bad manners to light a cigarette, cigar, or pipe in the home of another when no one else is smoking — and especially at the table when there is no provision made for smoking.

Q. Is it proper for a girl to hold the arm of the man with whom she is walking on the street?

A. If she is walking in high-heeled shoes on a slippery, icy street, it is all right. Otherwise, she should walk beside him unaided.

Q. Is it considered proper for a woman to use scented stationery, and how may she best produce this scent?

A. This is perfectly all right, and the best way to do it is to put a sachet bag in the drawer or box with the stationery.

Q. How does one correctly address an envelope to two unmarried sisters?

A. "The Misses Johnson."

Farmer 'Trades' Dairy For Arabian Horses, Beef Cattle

The average reader may ask "what have Arabrian horses and the price of milk to do with Pontiac cars." This reporter has never tied them together until Tuesday when he met a frequent advertiser and a regular reader of Paddock Publications in the person of Martin Loeber, who owns and operates the Plum Grove Farms at Algonquin and Meacham road south of Palatine.

He has so many activities that it is rather difficult to pick out his hobby, unless it is horseback riding. He not only does that on his farm, but he keeps an Arabian animal in Chicago which he finds time to occasionally ride while other business men are dining and napping at their club.

Let us introduce our readers to Martin. In Chicago automobile world he is president of the Pontiac dealers of Chicago. He owns the Loeber Pontiac sales, has 60 employees none of whom ever dares to tell his boss that it is difficult to sell cars.

His firm sold 109 Pontiacs in January and expects to reach 200 by the end of February, which Loeber has reason to believe means that he is the biggest Pontiac dealer in Chicago. "At least we sell a lot of cars," Martin told the reporter.

The reader may ask what has all this to do with the price of milk. Loeber owned, until recently a dairy the highest producing herd of Holsteins in Illinois. It has a per cow average of 571 pounds of butterfat per cow.

When he suddenly decided to get out of the milk producing business he did not know that the morning of the sale of his herd of 72, Secretary of Agriculture Benson would announce that he would not support the milk price at parity.

Martin figures that such announcement made over the radio that morning cost him between $3,000 and $5,000. However he admits that an average price of $400 an animal that he received for his herd, which included 30 cows was a good price.

A drop in the support of the price of milk did not discourage this Palatine farmer. The next day he bought two carloads of Shorthorn beef cattle.

Getting a little closer to his hobby, we come to his stable of Arabrian horses, which he personally feeds every morning at 7 o'clock sharp. There are four stallions in the lot, one of which he thinks is the finest in America. He intends to find out, and as president of the Modern Arabian Horse Owners, Inc., he insists that this year's show of that group be held in the Chicago Amphitheatre, instead of in St. Louis where it has been held in recent years.

Mr. Goldblat has interested him in making the show a benefit for the Cancer Society.

There are a number of Arabian stables among the money folk of Chicago and he has their support for an outstanding show of such horses.

Martin Loeber was born in Germany where he says he learned to work with his hands, which explains why he purchased the farm at Palatine six years ago. One son, George, is in the armed services; another, Paul, is in Northwestern and will of course get in the service after his graduation in June.

When asked for the secret of the success he has attained in selling cars, milking cows and raising horses, he replied, "It is not secret, it is just good hard work, a relaxing horse back ride several times a week amid keeping so busy that I have no time to worry."

Once Rejected Milk Carton Now In Style

The paper milk carton, now common in many Illinois grocery stores, is the key to significant changes taking place in dairy marketing.

Milk sold in paper cartons is often "bottled" in plants far away from the town in which it's sold. Many towns no longer have dairy plants, but depend on outside plants for their entire milk supply.

Farm economist Sheldon Williams of the University of Illinois reports that a recent survey shows that 50 out of 74 Illinois plants using paper cartons sell milk outside their local market areas.

ABOUT 550,000 quarts of milk in paper containers are sold each day in Illinois outside the town in which it's packaged. That's about 16 percent of all the milk bottled in the state.

Williams lists these three main causes for the development of wider markets for packaged milk:

1. Improvements in roads, trucks and refrigeration equipment and the development of paper cartons has made it practical to sell milk over a larger area.

2. STIFFER HEALTH regulations in some towns and a growing consumer preference for pasteurized and inspected milk have paved the way for outside milk to come into many towns.

3. It has become more and more important for plants to handle a large volume of milk if they are to keep costs down.

Williams thinks it likely that the trend toward fewer plants, each serving a larger area, will continue. The widening of market areas does cause some problems, he says. On the other hand, it has brought better milk into some communities. This fact, along with better merchandising of milk through grocery stores, has increased milk consumption in some cases.

LAW on the FARM

Illinois Egg Law

In 1951 the Illinois Legislature repealed an early law on the candling and sale of eggs and passed a new law requiring candling and grading. This act provides that no person shall buy, sell or offer for sale eggs for human consumption that are unfit for human food. The law defines "unfit." A producer offering such eggs for sale shall be docked and may be fined. Anyone purchasing eggs from a producer for resale must candle them and is required by law to refuse any that are unfit for human food.

All eggs sold at retail must be candled and sold by grade, except that cartons may be marked "ungraded." Also, persons selling, at retail, eggs produced by their own birds may sell such eggs without candling or grading. They may not be offered for sale as "fresh eggs" "strictly fresh eggs," new laid eggs or through similar slogans unless they meet the requirements for consumer Grade A or are offered for sale by the producer.

Dealers and buyers of eggs for resale must have a license from the State Department of Agriculture. Egg-breaking establishments offering egg whites or other egg preparations for sale must also be licensed.

The provisions cited are a part of the state pure foods law and are administered by the State Department of Agriculture. They may be found in the Illinois Revised Statutes, Chapter 56 ½, sections 55a-550.

Geese On Farm TV Show Sunday

Geese are good not only as food, but as weeders for berry patches. This and other facts about geese will be brought out on the "Farmtown, U. S. A." television show Sunday, March 14.

Clarence Beu, who operates a waterfowl hatchery near Elgin in Kane county, will be a guest on the program. He'll bring some of the 7,000 goslings he hatches each year.

"Farmtown, U. S. A." may be viewed at 2 p. m. (CST) on station WBBM-TV channel 2. It is presented with the cooperation of the Illinois Agricultural Association and the Pure Milk Association.

Most of the goslings, Beu says, are sold to farm people in his area who use them for meat and down. He adds that many berry growers turn the geese out into the berry patch where they eat the weeds.

Beu will bring geese from each of the four breeds in which he specializes—Toulouse, Emden, African and White Chinese.

Slight Increase In Cattle Numbers On Local Farms

Cattle numbers climbed 1 per cent during the past year, in spite of a record large slaughter. The increase was largely in dairy stock. Numbers of beef cattle showed no important change. These figures show that the nation's farmers are in a position to furnish about the same amount of beef in 1954 as they did in 1953.

The U. S. department of agriculture report placed the number of cattle and calves on farms and ranches January 1 at 94.7 million head compared with 93.7 million head a year before. The increase of a million head carried cattle numbers to a new record high.

CURRENT UPSWING in cattle numbers began in 1949, when the year opened with 76.8 million head. During the five years since the upturn began, there has been an increase of 18 million head, or 22 per cent. The present upswing has carried the total 11 per cent above the peak of the previous record cycle peak of 85.6 million head set in 1945.

The government report listed hog numbers on farms January 1 at 48.2 million. This number was 11 per cent less than that of one year before, and it reflected the smaller 1953 spring and fall pig crops. The reduction in numbers of hogs on farms means 10 to 15 per cent less pork for consumers. The reduction will continue to about next August. Farmers plan to have 6 per cent more sows farrow this spring than they had last year.

FARMERS STARTED this year with about 24.7 million milk cows. This number is 3 per cent more than were on hand one year before. Milk production in January was 9.2 billion pounds, up 6 per cent from 12 months before and the highest on record for the month.

Numbers of sheep and lambs decreased again in 1953 for the second consecutive year. The drop amounted to about 3 per cent, bringing total numbers down to 30.9 million head, the lowest number reported since 1950.

Numbers of horses and mules continued to dwindle in 1953. The number on farms January 1 of this year is listed as 5 million. This is a decline of 9 per cent for the past year and 81 per cent since the peak of horse and mule popularity in 1918.

Chickens on farms January 1 numbered 439 million head, up 2 per cent from a year earlier. Egg production in January was 5,448 million, or 1 per cent more than in 1953.

Helps Cow Carry Calf

If you have a valuable dairy cow that can't carry her calf to full term, you may want to investigate progesterone, a new hormone treatment your veterinarian can give her. Given every 10 days, the treatment has proved effective for animals that lack the body hormones to maintain pregnancy through final months, reports Capper's Farmer.

Local Leaders Aid 4-H Clubs In Year' Round Work

National 4-H Club Week, March 6-13, is the time when all Cook county 4-H boys and girls make a special effort to enroll new members for 1954.

Farm Adviser Carl F. Mees and home adviser Claradehl Upham issue a special invitation to all rural boys and girls between 10 and 21 years of age to join a 4-H club this year.

Membership goals this year are 400 members in agricultural 4-H Clubs and 750 members in home economics 4-H Clubs. Last year the enrollment for Cook County was 352 in agricultural clubs and 738 in home economics clubs.

Increase Oat And Barley Yields In Seed Treatment

If you treat oats and spring barley seed with Ceresan-M or Panogen, you can increase yields.

Costly oat sumit or stripe and covered smut in barley can largely be eliminated by treatment, says Benjamin Koehler, crop pathology specialist at the University of Illinois college of agriculture. Koehler explains that, even if you are using smut-resistant varieties, treating will cut down on seedling diseases.

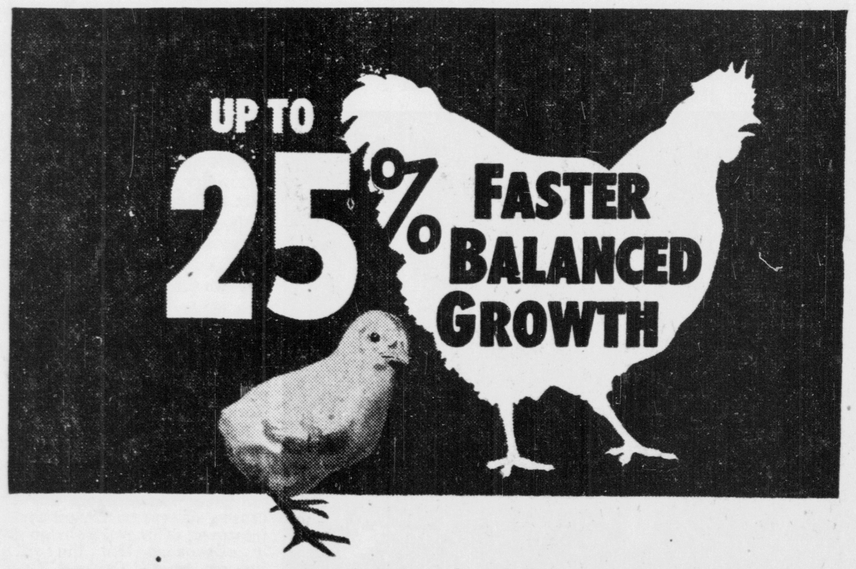

Seed can be easily treated with a slurry machine that mechanically measures out and mixes the seed and chemical.

Or you can treat by the "batch-mix" method, using a steel drum or small concrete mixer.

TREATING SEED is a good investment to insure production, says Koehler. For example, a 14-ounce can of Ceresan-M enough to treat 28 bushels of seed, costs only $1.25. This treatment may increase your oat yields three to five bushels an acre, even if you use smut-resistant oats.

At a planting rate of two bushels an acre, the increase in production would be 42 to 70 bushels. If oats were 70 cents a bushel, that would mean a return of $29 to $49 for a $1.25 investment.

County 4-H Leaders Attend District Session

Six local volunteer 4-H Club leaders from Cook county attended a district leaders' meeting Wednesday March 3, at Crystal Lake.

Included in the group were Mrs. Clara Krambeer, Arlington Heights; Mrs. E. J. Ahmer, Arlington Heights; Harold Bergman, Palatine and Carl F. Mees, farm adviser, Arlington Heights.

FARM ADVISER Carl F. Mees reports the highlight of the meeting was the group conferences arranged for the morning session of the program. O. F. Gaebe member of the state 4-H Club staff at the University of Illinois, opened the session by presenting the aims and objectives of the 4-H Club program.

After a brief review of the development of the 4-H club program, the leaders were divided into four groups to discuss different aspects of the question of what club work does for boys and girls.

One group considered what boys and girls might expect from taking part in the club program in terms of acquiring new skills and knowledge, making new friends and gaining recognition and other personal satisfactions. A second group considered what the leader can expect the 4-H Club program to offer the members of his club in terms of projects, activities and other developmental experiences.

THE THIRD group discussed the question of what the community expects from 4-H Club members. The fourth group talked about the things that parents can expect their children to get from membership in a 4-H Club.

Each group summarized its findings after the discussion period. Then the group discussion leaders presented the opinions to the entire group of leaders. A review of new developments in the state 4-H program by O. F. Gaebe and Elsie Bulter, followed by a short recreation period, was also part of the afternoon program.

A Luncheon recognizing the efforts and achievements of the club leaders was served through the courtesy of Public Service Company.

Prepare To Control Legume Insects

Legume insects may take as heavy a toll on clover and alfalfa this year as they did last year.

Clarence White, entomologist, University of Illinois and State Natural History Survey, says farmers can control these insects with one application of BHC — benzene hexachloride.

"With warm, humid weather, parasites and diseases will usually kill off weevils, spittlebugs and aphids," says White. "But farmers should be prepared to combat an outbreak."

Apply BHC in middle or late April. The proper spray mixture for each acre is three-tenths of a pound of the chemical in 10 gallons of water. Additional applications will be necessary if outbreaks of aphids recur.

Since BHC leaves a poisonous residue, White issues these two warnings:

1. Don't pasture clover treated with this insecticide for two weeks after applying.
2. Don't use BHC after the clover is eight inches high if you plan to cut it for hay.

Further information on legume insects and their control is available from the College of Agriculture, Urbana.

Morrow Plots Prove Value Of Soil Management

"There's a real lesson for Cook County folks in the results of the Morrow lot tests at the University of Illinois."

Carl F. Mees, County farm adviser, says, "These plots, oldest in the nation, show that soil treatment and rotations make the difference between getting 20 and 109 bushels of corn per ace."

George Morrow, pioneer Illinois agronomist, set up these six plots, about half the size of a football field, which go into their 79th year of testing this spring.

ONE PLOT has grown corn continuously for 78 years; the second is under a corn-oats rotation, while the third has a corn-oats clover cropping system. Since 1904 half of each plot has received manure, lime and phosphate, while the other half has been left untreated.

Carl F. Mees said yields for a recent 12-year period were only 20 bushels an acre on the continuous corn plot without treatment. On the corn-oats-clover rotation with soil treatment, they jump to 109 bushels an acre.

OAT YIELDS in the corn-oats rotation were 30 bushels an acre on untreated land compared with 41 bushels an acre in the corn-oats-clover rotation on untreated land. When both two- and three-year rotations received manure, lime and phosphate, yields jumped to 60 bushels an acre.

Legume-hay yields without soil treatment were only nine-tenths of a ton per acre. but they advanced to three and seven-tenths tons with soil treatment.

Handy 'Bulb Snatcher'

Light bulbs for high, hard-to-reach sockets can be removed or replaced easily with a bulb holder devised by an Iowa farmer. He shaped four wires in the form of claws to fit a bulb snugly, relates Capper's Farmer. The wire claws were wrapped with electrician's tape and nailed to the end of a long 2- by 2-inch board.

A "Ken Stratton" day was held in four of the Johnson & Johnson plants in the New York area at which the winner was welcomed by the executive committee of the company.

A three-day all-expenses-paid trip to New York for Mr. and Mrs. Stratton was the prize for leading all other Tek Hughes salesmen during 1953.

Sword and Shield club of Glenbrook high school presented a state and school flag to the school during the dedication program February 28. Design of the school flag was selected in a school wide contest. Above is the state flag. Left to right are: Judd Lynn, president of Sword and Shield; Sam Genovse, vice president; Frank Welter and Gordon Bruno, president of senior class, made the presentation.

The dedication of the Glenbrook high school was a big day for the communities of Northbrook and Glenview. The class rooms were ready for school opening in September, but the official dedication of the school was delayed until completion of the gymnasium. Above is Arthur Palmgren, president of the Glenbrook board of education who, in addition to announcing the program, paid tribute to the many persons who had made the school possible. At his left is Dr. Watson, school principal, whose duties were especially trying during the years the enrollment of the schools were spread around neighboring high schools waiting for tax payers approval of site and bond issue. The school cost $2,650,000 and has many features not found in older schools of this area.

Like a space ship reflecting the galaxies, the long, sweeping lines of Cadillac's La Espada taper off to its gracefully styled missile-like tail fins. Its Appolo Gold exterior is complemented by the Apollo Gold and high luster black leather interior. Though daringly different from traditional car designs of today, La Espada is completely functional. The car will be presented by Cadillac at the 1954 Chicago automobile show.

Fire Destroys Landmark At Routes 22-45

A $200,000 fire destroyed the Bob-Mari tavern and B & J Novelty Co. building, Rtes. 21 and 45 at Half Day, an area landmark. Two persons were dramatically rescued from the blazing building, and 39 families living in a nearby trailer camp were evacuated because of smoke and flames.

Mrs. Umans and her husband, Robert, were sleeping in the building when the fire broke out. The Umans family occupied the second floor of the three-story frame structure. The tavern and novelty concern were on the main floor, and the third floor was used for storage.

Many Disregard Efforts To Clean Stream Pollution

The Cook county clean streams committee has been advised by attorney Theodore Stone, its counsel, that there is urgent need for state legislation to control real estate developments, particularly in unincorporated areas, and prohibit any such development unless the subdividor first provides an adequate sewerage system and an outlet approved by the state sanitary water board or a sanitary district having jurisdiction.

Mr. Stone pointed out that some of the serious cases of stream pollution on which the committee is now working had arisen from the lack of any such means of control and that the necessary statute, if enacted by the next session of the Illinois legislature, would prevent the creation of new pollution problems equally serious. New York has such a law.

Recent "violations" of "good sewer sense":

Brown Packing Co., of South Holland, which operates a slaughter house remote from any intercepting sewer—an Imhoff tank for treatment of its wastes is go grossly overloaded that the effluent, flowing into the Calumet River, is seriously polluting that stream.

Wilson Subdivision in Harvey—The sewage from about 65 homes passes through an Imhoff tank built prior to annexation of the area to Harvey and under a permit from the state sanitary water board. The effluent now discharges into the Calumet-Union drainage ditch but the original permit stipulated that secondary treatment must also be provided unless the effluent was pumped into the Harvey sewerage system. Neither has ever been done.

Buckhorn Ranch trailer park at Curtiss St. and Central Ave., north of Higgins Road and east of the old location of the Soo Line tracks, adjacent to O'Hare Field and south of DesPlaines. The sewage is discharged into Willow Creek which empties into the DesPlaines River just south of Higgins Road.

Orchard Place Subdivision north of Higgins rd. and west of the old Soo Line tracks. This unincorporated area now contains 761 residences and 50 trailers. Until recently, this community has made no effort to organize and construct sewers connecting with the nearby interceptor.

Northlake City which lies on both sides of North Ave. east of the Cook-DuPage county line—like the adjacent community of Stone Park and the north section of Melrose Park, it has failed to provide lateral sewers connecting with the intercepting sewer beneath North Ave., constructed by the Sanitary District in 1951 but still unused.

A pass-through between the kitchen and the dining area saves many dozens of steps a day in serving meals. The pass-through illustrated here has a convenient hanging cupboard above the usual counter. All the dishes and silver needed for a meal can be laid on the counter from the kitchen side and then can be easily reached from the dining room side later. A hanging cupboard of this type can have doors on both sides.

In The Future

A new electrical gadget, attached to your TV antenna, diverts lightning from the lead-in wire and hence your home . . . The man "who couldn't punch his way out of a paper bag" has at last the chance of trying. The world's largest paper bag, recently developed for the textile, garden tool, rug and rubber hose trades, is really big enough for the battle: 18 by 19 by 167 inches. Watch for the marketing of a super-concentrated (5 to 1) orange juice, in which the flavor is fortified by the addition of the peel oil.

These two Hawaiian fishermen exhibiting to the touring editors a baby octopus which they had just taken out of the sea. The octopus is considered a dainty dish by the Hawaiians. Usually the women folk gather seaweed at the same time as the men go after the fish, using a small box with glass bottom to locate what they seek. These men are examples of the size of the purebred Hawaiian people. Sam Campbell, who gave a lecture on Hawaii at Arlington Heights Monday evening, said that the Hawaiian man admires the small Chinese and Japanese women more than the large Hawaiian women, which explains small stature of the second generation.

The Editor Goes To Hawaii

INSTALLMENT II

The first question asked by hopeful visitors to the islands is "How does the cost of living compare with the United States?"

Prices are about 25% higher, but the year around resident can live as cheap, if not cheaper there, than in the mainland because of the climate — no heating problems, no heavy clothing. The tourists will find many ways to spend money, but no high pressure salesmanship is used in the shops.

Just because the tour in which you are a part stops on the road to give you an opportunity to enjoy a bit of entertainment, does not mean you will be pressed to make a purchase. You are always surrounded by smiles. However, the goods offered are so strictly Hawaiian that few visitors can resist buying.

We are indebted for some of the description given in our stories of Hawaii to "All the best in Hawaii" written by Sydney Clark. We feel free to use them because we were there and saw it ourselves.

There is probably more hospitality paid to visitors to Hawaii than in any country on earth. The early missionaries were welcomed and found it easy to get converts. Today it is the Hawaiians who are converting the visitors to the Hawaiian life.

Everybody wears the muumuu on Aloha week and it is very much in evidence among natives throughout the year. For description of the garment, we turn to the book mentioned above.

". . . dozens of girl students were clad in the shapeless, but many colored muumuu, which somber sartorial garment was wished upon the Polynesian pagans by the Congregational missionaries, arriving from Boston in 1820. It is a sort of New England nightie cut very loose and nowadays a riot of bright hues and floral patterns."

There is a lot of difference between the dark skinned natives of Hawaii, and the dark skinned people of S. America and the Mediterranean countries of Europe. As one visitor said, "The residents of the Islands are "as American as hell."

"When you visit the Hawaiian Islands, you will find yourself in the very heart of America, in one of the brightest, most stimulating, most variously thrilling sectors of America's much beating heart."

The only time the hula girls wear grass skirts is in the welcome or departure of visitors. In the entertainment spots, hotels, etc., they wear the muumuu or holoku which is a fitted garment that extends from the neck to the ankles.

"Good hula is danced with the feet always flat to the ground and the knees bent, shifting the body back and forth as one "walks" flat-footed. A rippling motion of hands and arms indicates waves; a sharp downward plunge of the hands denotes lightning; arched finger tips form a rainbow; an upturned hand, with finger tips meeting in a point, pictures a star. In olden times hula hands did ballads and whole chronicles, and every watcher understood it all."

A visitor can usually be recognized. Greeted with a lei as he or she steps off the boat, the women folk lothe to throw aside flowers so beautiful and so hardy, and will wear them for days. The men, disclaiming any evidence of feminine masculinity, will let them hang over a chair or lamp.

The leis "have as many forms as there are feelings, as many shades of meaning as there are people to give it color. Hawaiian flowers, wild or cultivated are never cheap, but they are amazingly inexpensive by mainland standards."

The usual cost of a lei varies from $2.00 to $5.00, depending on the flowers. (We forgot to inquire who paid the cost of the leis hung about our neck or who paid the musicians and dancers who met us.)

The weather in Hawaii is like no other place on earth. "Sunshine and rain have, as it were, met in conclave and decided amicably which element shall have dominance over what regions. On the top of Kauai's Mount Waialeale it rains 480 inches or forty feet a year, while 18 miles to the west it almost never rains."

This means that there must be irrigation for sugar cane, pinapples, etc., but it is easy irrigation because water just runs down hill from the mountains.

As one person wrote, "Hawaii has the climate that California advertises." A writer puts the case this way, "When floods devastate Southern California, or hurricanes whip the palms of Florida to shreds, all their local boasters can say in extenuation is that the weather is very exceptional. Hawaii has much fewer exceptions and therefore lies less."

The Honolulu Chamber of Commerce sponsors the Hawaiian Visitors Bureau which is the year around host to visitors. Its representatives "set the pace for a loose-collar type of travel propaganda. If anything is wrong, they try to correct it. If the weather God blunders, they hope, but make no promises that He will behave in the future. You love Hawaii and most things about it a little more because it is not stuffed down your throat."

JUST AROUND THE CORNER

FROM PATTY McARDLE

Dear Peg:

After hearing for weeks about the coming of a brand new ladies' TV program, I was all ready at 10:00 a. m. on March 1 to relax with a second cup of coffee in front of the television set and watch the premier performance of "Home." Megan wasn't at all happy about the whole thing, since a competitive network had strategically rescheduled a couple of her favorite programs for appearance during the new show. However, before the show began, I managed to get Megan and Bridget interested in washing their dollies, enabling me to watch the program with a minimum of interference.

Anxiously, nervously and breathlessly Arlene Francis and her staff plunged into their first show. In an atmosphere of tension and confusion, lasting a full hour, the staff was introduced, a fashion show was held, a recipe was given, a talk on "dating" was delivered, a miniature room was redecorated, a movie about babies was shown, advice on gardening was offered and all the spectacular mechanical devices, such as the rain-making machine, the models' revolving turn table and a banner of flashing lights revealing news of the feature to follow were shown.

IT SEEMED TO ME that each staff member raced through her part, talking much too rapidly and flubbing lines just to get to the station break before the studio clock—then arriving at the "finish line" a little ahead of time, would first smile nervously at the audience then glance off to the sides for help, until the fade out. This was the situation only when the station break was anticipated—there were a couple of unanticipated ones that caught the poor editors in the middle of a sentence.

Of course, this was a premier show, but even at that I didn't expect to see Arlene Francis, who appears to be so relaxed and poised on that wonderful program, "What's My Line," so unnerved during the opening of her own show.

It gave me a most uncomfortable feeling to watch her continually glance toward the corner of the camera, as if she were reading from a script, when she was supposed to be having a friendly chat with her viewers.

THE SUBJECTS, though entertaining, were only superficially touched upon, due to the small allotment of time provided for each. I think they will eventually cut out some of the subjects, thereby giving more time and added depth to their best features.

Some of the mechanical contraptions will have to go too. I hope the flashing banner, which repeats in moving lights the features that Miss Francis is introducing, is first, and next the rain machine. After all, we can't see the rain coming down anyway (at least not on our set) and I'm quite willing to believe that a fabric is water repellent if someone says so.

I also hope that food editor Poppy Cannon will start giving less exotic recipes. The latest one called for a seasoning to be found only in specialty shops or some restaurant in New Orleans.

I GUESS I EXPECTED this program to be a ladies' version of Dave Garroway's "Today." But, although it could be quite similar in its variety of interests, it lacks completely the easy going, informal, natural quality of that program and the people on it. For some reason, women in television find it necessary to speak in such a drama schoolish manner. I wonder if they realize that to the majority of viewing housewives, this type of speech has a superior, and therefore unfriendly, ring to it.

In spite of its pretty poor beginning, I think that "Home" has all of the potentialities for one of the finest women's programs on television. From all appearances, its staff is made up of intelligent, capable women who I don't think will find it difficult to smooth out the kinks in their new show. I'm certainly going to continue to watch it, that is if I can keep Megan and Bridget interested in washing their dollies from 10:00 to 11:00.

My love,
Patty.

Americans Paid $500 Apiece To U. S. And State During Past Year

During the last fiscal year, the states collected $10,500,000,000 from their citizens—which works out to $68 for every man, woman and child in the country.

In the same year, the federal government collected $65,200,000,000 in taxes—or $410 for each and every American.

This comes to a total of $478.04 per capita, or close to $2,000 a year for a family of four—and it doesn't include local taxes, for which figures are not available.

Just A Re-Hash

Regarding "Committee of 100" post-mortems:

About all of interest one could gather from the nearly ¼ page article in last week's "Fence Post" was how nice it is that in the families of Severin, Wilson, Karl, Powell, Haynes and Laubenheimer, the wife and husband see eye-to-eye on an important subject.

The issue concerns me almost none, and that very indirectly, but that quarter page of colloquy is about as much in order as an article would be by the other side describing, "Why we won the election" now that it is over.

Let's hope, as these happily married couples do, it is all for the best. If not, the next best thing is to take it up in a normal manner at a future referendum.

As so little or nothing is to be gained by this one-sided re-hash, why did you print it, Mr. Paddock?

Want Answers

An open letter to
James E. Millay, chairman
Lester T. McAuliffe, secretary
Members of the Committee of One Hundred.

At the close of your committee's statement in the Arlington Heights Herald of March 4, you said, "It is not our purpose to harbor personal resentment against proponents of the defeated bond issue." Nor do we, who sincerely proposed the second high school as the best solution of the problem facing our district, bear any ill will against those who cast negative votes out of disagreement with our recommendation.

We must, however, as citizens and board members, protest the reflections which were cast upon the honesty and integrity of members of the board and those employed by the board. We cannot accept the premise that such methods are acceptable in school elections and now should be forgotten. We can find no justification or excuse for the sort of "nameless" insinuations employed in your campaign literature and so-called "victory statement."

IT IS OUR RIGHT and our duty to demand that the charges which have been made will be either proved or publicly withdrawn. We are referring primarily to three charges which run throughout your campaign and subsequent statements:

1. That the entire bond issue proposal and even the day to day administration of the school was conducted for the "private gain" of certain unnamed individuals. In your mailing to residents you stated, "Why? Is a small, selfish group being permitted to direct the affairs of the high school for its own profit." There were others in similar vein.

Is it not your duty to name the individuals who stand accused? What board member has profited in any way? Or would have profited if the bond issue had been passed?

What employee or contractor of the board has ever received any compensation except that honestly earned by services performed or goods delivered? Difference of opinion as to whom should be employed is no excuse for questioning motives or integrity!

ARE YOU REFERRING to the architect, a professional man of the highest possible standing in this community who was to have received the standard fee set forth by his own profession and who agreed for the benefit of the community to make no charge for his services thus far in the event of defeat of the bond issue?

Are you referring to the insurance agent who has saved this district thousands of dollars through his professional competence and knowledge of large policy writing? Are you aware that the change in student transportation insurance was voted unanimously by the board in order to provide better quality protection for the people of this district and that the additional premium, which this year involved less than $100, was assumed because higher coverage was requested by the board than that called for in the contract with the transporter?

Are you referring to the attorney for the board who has given full satisfaction to the district for eight years and whose reputation as an expert in school law has caused him to be employed by four grade school districts in this area including three in our own high school district? Are you aware that the fee to which you objected was authorized by the board as a maximum which would have applied regardless of the number and complexity of legal problems which might have been involved before the project was completed; that it was not a flat fee which would have been paid automatically?

ARE YOU AWARE that even this maximum fee was in conformance with the minimum fee recommended by the Illinois Bar Association, and that other experienced, reputable attorneys have stated a fee of twice or three times that authorized by the board would be the customary fee? Can you produce an attorney, experienced in bond elections, to whom such business could be intrusted with confidence for the ridiculous professional fee of $500?

Are you referring to a real estate broker who has never done any appraising for the board and whose only service for the board was an ownership tracing job on an entirely different piece of property in which the board was interested nearly two years ago?

2. That there is something wrong with the financial records of the school.

Don't you and your advisors know the tax funds of the high school are all in the custody of the Township School Treasurer who is appointed by the Trustees of schools and not selected by the Board, and that his books are audited annually and the results published? For your information his name is Rolland A. Franzen, who is also Vice-President of the Arlington Heights National Bank. The only funds under sole control of the Board, are those of athletic receipts, cafeteria income, materials sold to students, and the like, which, although not even required by law, have been audited annually by the C. P. A. firm of Albert L. Roderick, a resident of Mt. Prospect practicing at 111 West Monroe St., Chicago. In addition, all persons having access to such activity funds are covered by an adequate fidelity bond.

ARE YOU QUESTIONING the honesty or professional competence of either Mr. Franzen or Mr. Roderick?

Are you unaware that no money can be spent except by check signed by Mr. Franzen and in accordance with a detailed budget which is adopted only after thirty days public notice and a public hearing? Have you, even today, ever studied that budget or asked for an explanation on any item? We know that not one of your group has ever attended the budget hearings.

3. That the Board is operating in a secret manner behind closed doors.

You know full well that all board meetings, regular and special, are open to the public, and that all business is transacted in such open meetings. With only one exception, not one member of your committee has ever attended a Board meeting even during the period prior to the bond issue vote when you admitted that you were uninformed. That member of your group, Quentin Ford, attended a few meetings well over a year ago, at the direction of the Chamber of Commerce and although repeatedly invited to comment or criticize, made no contribution to the meetings.

Not one other member of your group has attended a budget hearing or aside from attending football and basketball games has ever shown any previous interest in the high school in any form.

If any of the accusations and insinuations which you have made are true, or even if you believe they are true, are you not bound to furnish us and the public the names and the proof, and further, if they are not true, to publicly admit their untruth and that they were made solely "to win this election by any means."

Sidewalks A Utility

We purchased a lot and built a home in Mt. Prospect for our large family (four children then, five now) in 1950-51, for several reasons. One of the most important was the proximity to Lincoln school, only three blocks away. Our children definitely could walk that short distance, and there were no dangerous streets to cross. Unfortunately, all the land between us and the school was vacant and without sidewalks, but we assumed that when homes were built, these walks would go in. Also there weren't many people living in the area, so there were not many cars.

Almost every lot on SeGwun is now built on, but not one foot of walk has been installed. Incidentally, many of the homes have two car garages, so it is to be assumed there will be several more cars in the neighborhood. To make matters even more unpleasant, there isn't a foot of sidewalk the length of Lincoln Avenue from Can-Dota, west. We invite all who are opposed to sidewalks to stroll from the corner of Go-Wanda and Se-Gwun to Lincoln School between 8:30 a. m. and 9 a. m., or 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m., or 3 p.m. to 4 p.m. You had better check on your life insurance policies, and wear five buckle boots as you will have your choice of walking across the muddy yards of my neighbors to the north or wading through the mud and water of a badly settled street, lined with cars and trucks on two sides.

YOU WILL HAVE a little more trouble than my five year old, or 7 year old, or 10 year old, as you are not as young and nimble as they are. The training we have given them through their young lives, to stay out of the streets, must get quite strained on these hazardous journeys. Incidentally, it mught raise the hair on the back of your neck to see a mother pushing a baby carriage down one of these pleasant, tree-lined streets. Who wants to be so old-fashioned as to take a baby for a walk?

Did it ever occur to those who oppose sidewalks to examine the reason walks are necessary? Funk and Wagnalls' dictionary says "a sidewalk is a path for the use of foot passengers." It doesn't say anything about the wishes, desires, or financial condition of those who own the property behind the walk. Safety and public welfare are the considerations. Frankly, sidewalks are a utility, falling in the same category as sewers, water mains, and streets. We all know we couldn't build on 50 ft. or 60 ft. lots and have wells and septic tanks, as the health of the populace would be endangered by contamination.

WHEN PEOPLE crowd together into cities, villages and towns, certain health and safety standards have to be imposed and enforced for the common welfare. If you build out in the country, with wide areas separating you from your neighbors then many of these standards and restrictions can be abandoned. However, I want to point out that even in the country, farmers provide lanes and paths along roads,for their cows. We should tell our children, in an urban area, average lot size 50 ft. to take to the streets! If certain residents want wide lawn expanses, uninterrupted by sidewalks, there are many subdivisions which were laid out that way originally, like Scarsdale Estates, where all purchasers knew from the start that no sidewalks would be installed. In the country club district over 50 per cent of the sidewalks were installed with the streets, 25 years ago.

The majority of us who built here first, chose the lots where those walks were in, and, as any real estate man will tell you, paid more per front foot than if we had taken lots which didn't have walks. We have the right to expect all future home owners to improve their properties in like manner, and not at our expense.

THE ABOVE has been written as a property owner and resident. Now, a brief statement as a builder in the town. We purchased the Moehling farm to the north of the Country Club district, surrounding the Lincoln School, late in 1952, and in preliminary discussion with the town officials, were told in no uncertain terms, that our improvements in our subdivision would have to include sidewalks. All our subdivisions to date have had sidewalks, so this was no great blow to us. Our engineering drawings show sidewalks, and those will go in.

Wh. an individual, building his own home or purchasing an isolated one, should consider himself above and beyond the law that we subdividers have to obey, we cannot understand. If the installation of sidewalks is a financial burden on one lot, what do you suppose it is to us with 150? Equality before the law has been an American principal for many years.

Can You Tell Me

About Removing Grease Spots from New Wallpaper?

I purchased some wallpaper, but through a mishap we splashed some grease on it. How can we remove these spots?

Whether you can remove the grease spots from the wallpaper will depend upon the quality of the paper and upon the kind of grease that made the spots. First, try one of the wallpaper spot removers on the market. Follow directions on the can. Another method is to mix bolted whiting with carbon tetrachloride to the consistency of cream. Spread this mixture over the grease spots, using a clean brush or a soft cloth. Let the mixture dry and remain on the surface until the next day. Then brush the material off. If some of the grease still remains, repeat the process. Sometimes, if the grease spots are not too bad, they can be removed by placing two or three thicknesses of blotting paper over the spots and ironing the outside thickness of the blotting paper with a hot iron, as in ironing clothes.

Trade Commission Rules Against Evis Water Softener

Better Business Bureaus across the country were advised today of a complaint filed by the Federal Trade Commission against the Evis Manufacturing Co., San Francisco, Cal.

Russell Lund, managing director of the Water Conditioning Research Council advised the groups that FTC complaint (6168) cites the manufacturer and two officers. Advertising claims that the Evis Water Conditioner "makes hard water feel, taste, and act softer," giving it a "silky-smooth quality" for hair, bath, dishes, laundry, and car wash, without the use of chemical-, are "false, misleading, and deceptive" according to the FTC complaint.

According to the complaint, the product is a metal device which "has the appearance of an oversized pipe coupling with an interior cross post integrally cast in place." It is intended to be fitted into water systems for the purpose of beneficially treating and conditioning water.

The complaint lists as false and misleading the company's representations that the product:

Is made of a specially processed cast metal and has a catalytic effect on water passing through it which changes its physical behavior in many beneficial ways;

Solves hard water problems, causing "hard" water to become soft;

Removes and reduces unpleasant odors and flavors in water, making it taste better, and improves the taste of coffee and other foods;

Requires the use of less soap and reduces the cost of heating water;

Eliminates or reduces the harshness of water to the hands and causes dishes and glassware to dry without leaving water stains;

Removes grease from drains and prevents and removes scale from boilers, water heaters, pipes, shower nozzles and other parts of a water system;

Prevents, reduces and eliminates scum, rust stains and corrosion and retards the pitting of metal;

Improves the action of chemicals used for water softening purposes;

Leaches out alkali and salts in soil, improves the growth and production of various agricultural and orchard products and plants, and improves the texture and structure of soil; and

Reduces the amount of water required for agricultural irrigation.

In its report, the WCRC advised that consumers buying water conditioners can usually be guided by the reputation of the manufacturer and the seals of commendation granted by such organizations as the Good Housekeeping Institute Parents Bureau, and the American Medical Association.

Hearings on the case will begin April 8 in San Francisco.

Abstruse; difficult to be comprehended or understood. "The professor spoke on profound and abstruse subjects."

Smallest Lamp Size Of Head Of A Pin

The smallest lamp in the world —as small as the head of a pin— has been perfected by Westinghouse lamp division engineers for use in missile tests.

A neon glow lamp only 1/20th of an inch in diameter, it aids in timing photographic records of missiles in action. It also can be used for similar camera work in laboratories where space is cramped.

The lamp is about one-third the diameter of the "grain of wheat" lamp, previous holder of the world's-smallest-lamp title since 1932. The "grain of wheat" lamp is used by medical doctors in bronchoscopes and other instruments for examining internal organs of the human body.

Here's An Idea For Low-Cost Necktie Rack

Many persons are finding that a recently introduced plastic accessory, called a three-arm towel holder, makes an excellent inexpensive necktie rack!

The new self-adhering towel holder can be fastened to the closet wall or the back of the closet door without making any holes. And though it was designed for drying stockings, lingerie, and other light clothing, the holder is ideal for ties because its three 10½-inch plastic arms fold against the door or wall. Each arm has a knob at the end which keeps ties from sliding off, too.

The three-arm holder can be fastened to any smooth surface without use of nails, screws, or tools. The reason is a patented wood insert which is molded into the back of the holder and is adhesive coated. To put up the holder, just moisten the adhesive with a few drops of water, work it into a gluey consistency, and press the holder firmly against the door or wall for one minute. After 24 hours the holder is ready for use.

If you prefer an immovable necktie rack, plastic towel bars in 12 or 18-inch lengths can be applied to the closet wall or door in the same manner.

These new plastic accessories, known as Selfix, are obtainable in white, red, yellow, green, and black colors at most Woolworth and Kresge stores and at many other leading variety stores.

QUITE CONTRARY

BY MARY

More years ago that we care to mention, we decided that we could not become a nurse because there were certain things we couldn't bring ourselves to do. Of course, since that time we have had to do all of those things for our young so our fateful decision didn't mean a thing.

Last week end we had to spend a day in the hospital and while we hate to wax lyrical over any one profession, the nurses on the pediatric floor were wonderful. Such little children in the beds and all of them so sick and so homesick.

There was a constant calling for MaMa and Daddy, not from the tonsil club, their parents were in residence, but from the regulars.

And, each time a nurse went into one of the rooms she prefaced each remark with a darling or a dear. Those in charge of young sufferers were firm, patient, but above all, loving. It was wonderful.

We are getting a big boot out of McCarthy's screams for vengeance. The old boy just isn't going to let anyone get away with calling him names. Nosireebob. He's the only name caller in the business.

McCarthy comes to mind because we are sure that we lost two good friends last week when we defended him. We think that the United States needs a thorn in its side such as the loud mouthed Irishman from Wisconsin.

We hate the way he has chosen to rout out any reds in government and yet maybe a sledgehammer attack is just what the reds need.

Someone should scout around and weed out subversives and old Mac is the one who started it.

We could wish that he were a little less like a bulldozer and, in our humble opinion, if this particular bulldozer is smart, he'll keep wearing his little old bullet proof vestee.

After reading the front page articles of some of our metropolitan newspapers, we are glad that our small fries are lucky enough to be going to school in the so called country. When kids have to start paying protection to other kids just to be able to get to and from school safely, a pretty pass has been reached.

We can wonder what is wrong with some of the parents who live in the big cities. And it is an object lesson for us here in the sticks. Know where the youngsters are and know the youngsters.

Air Conditioning Gaining Favor In Homes

Most if not all homes built in the U.S. five years from today will be equipped with year-round air conditioning, according to a survey conducted by the gas industry (American Gas Association).

Interviewing families who'd had gas air conditioning equipment for a minimum of five years, the gas people found that the all-year air conditioned home has a substantially greater resale value than a comparable house without such equipment. In fact, 82 per cent of those queried reported that air conditioning had "substantially" increased the value of their homes, while an additional 17 per cent said that a gas system had made their homes "somewhat more valuable."

The survey also revealed that year-round gas air conditioning makes for lower home operating costs generally. Seventy-one per cent reported that walls and woodwork needed less cleaning; 90 per cent, that less time was needed for dusting; 70 per cent, that drapes, curtains, upholstery and rugs needed less frequent cleaning, and 31 per cent, that less redecoration work was needed.

Des Plaines Aldermen Favor Annexation Of Orchard Place

Ald. Genter Dahl (6th) and Ald. William R. Jacobs (3d) have taken a stand in favor of the annexation of Orchard Place as "beneficial to the City of Des Plaines."

Dahl is chairman and Jacobs is vice chairman of the Municipal Development Committee which has been studying the pros and cons of annexation carefully.

"When O'Hare Field is in operation, between 10,000 and 15,000 people will be employed there. They will look to the vacant areas near the field for housing and for recreation," the aldermen said.

"Unless the building and zoning is controlled carefully, a disorderly development in a section next to Des Paines could have an adverse effect on the value of property within the city," they asserted.

AT LEGION BIRTHDAY

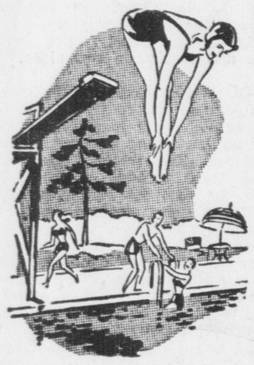

Governor William G. Stratton will be the guest speaker at the 36th birthday luncheon of the American Legion which the Cook county council will have on Tuesday, March 16, in the Mural room of the Morrison hotel in Chicago.

Voting Franchise To 18 Year Olds Will Add 189,000 In Cook County

Washington, March 3 . . (Special) —Lowering the voting age to 18 years, as urged by President Eisenhower, would add about 189,370 names to the poll books in Cook County, according to Census Bureau calculations.

Census experts find that roughly 4 per cent of the total population are in the age groups between the 18th and 21st birthdays. That mean 6,322,000 additional eligible voters for the entire nation, should the proposed constitutional amendment become the law of the land.

Based on Cook County's 1950 population of 4,508,792, her potential new young voters today number 189,370 after full allowance for population increase and age changes since the 1950 census.

Studies of birth statistics since 1930 show that today's potential new voters in the 18-21 age groups are evenly divided between the sexes, exactly half men and half women.

Five Bills Pending

Five bills are pending before the Judiciary Committee of the House of Representatives proposing a constitutional amendment fixing the voting age at 18 years. If approved by two-thirds vote in both the House and Senate, the amendment then would need to be ratified by three-fourths of 50 States, if Hawaii and Alaska are admitted as new states this year. That means 38 states would have to ratify the amendment.

Should Congress submit the amendment this year, which is still uncertain, the new voting age hardly could become effective before the 1956 presidential elections. Usually about two years are required for deposit of the state ratifications in Washington.

Meanwhile, each State legislature is free to fix the voting age at 18 if it wishes, as the federal constitution does not now fix the voting age at 21 years. The constitution merely accepts the voting qualifications fixed by the states. Georgia already permits voting by 18-year olds.

Georgia approved 18-year voters in 1943. At that time there was considerable talk of like action in several other states, but no other legislature followed through.

Leonard W. Hall, chairman of the Republican National Committee, revived the proposal on May 25, 1953, announcing that both President Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon have endorsed the idea with enthusiasm. The President then incorporated the recommendation in his message to Congress on the State of the Union, January 7, 1954.

Public Favors Move

Recent public opinion polls show 63 percent in favor of the lower age limits with only 31 percent opposed. The first public opinion poll on the question, in 1939, showed only 17 per cent in favor of the lower age limit, and 79 per cent opposed.

"If a man is old enough to fight, he is old enough to vote," said President Eisenhower in discussing his proposal. He also urged the States to enact uniform laws permitting absentee balloting by men and women in the military service, wherever thay may be on election day.

The National Education Association opposes votes for 18-year olds, on the ground that "social and economic stability is not reached before 21 years of age."

"Generally speaking," the NEA argument runs, "young people before 21 are unmarried, do not have their own homes, and do not pay taxes."

DESIGN FOR LIVING

Building - Remodeling - Improving

THE MAILMAN'S CORNER

BY LELAND ELLIS TRUXELL

Along about March 15th, most of us have figured out our income taxes, and the only thing left to do is find the money to pay them.

The witholding tax has taken care of that problem for many of us; but there are a lot of people who have to dig deep to pay the tax on extra income which has beer spent on beans and bread, or a new car. Many of us wish we had put some money in the bank as we penitently, yet desperately cast about in our thoughts for ways and means.

IN MILLIONS of families both man and wife have had to work to keep the home fires burning. We have built up our national economy and have so increased the number of things we must have, that our wants now excell our capacity to pay; yet, to insure full productivity and work for all, economists tell us, we must continue to buy.

Our whole lives have become a sort of rat race; our desires never stop growing. We have become conditioned to an effort for finding pleasure in material things. Unfortunately, we will never find these attributes of happiness in possessions.

Unions and other labor associations are continually asking for higher wages. Suppose you got a raise of $500.00 per year—what would you do with the money?

CHANCES ARE you would buy a new car, new furniture, or take a bigger vacation. Next March 15, you would again be faced with the problem of paying your taxes. You have received more pay, spent more money, and are up against the same problem.

Meanwhile, your children will have been without the supervision, advice and loving care which they need. The principles, religion, character and personality development they need for happiness and which they should have received from you will have to be learned by them in the school of hard knocks.

It is time to go back to the simple life, to find happiness through the eternal things that bring happiness, through love, faith and prayer. So far, there has never been a tax on such income.

Deluxe Business Planes Even Have Cedar Closets Aboard

Executives fly in style in the new model deluxe airplanes produced by Remmert-Werner, Inc.

Each of the craft, designed for use by businessmen, is a virtual flying office, with conveniences ranging from a desk and dictaphone to divans and a cedar lined closet.

Equipment includes a galley, bar, four swivel and reclining chairs, two double sleepers, a lavatory, table, radio, record player and intercom system.

Company officials describe the cedar closet as an added touch of distinction and "hominess" which makes a big hit with buyers.

In most of the deluxe models the closets are at the rear of the cabins. In others they are near the front. They vary in size from six to ten square feet of floor space.

Ask Skokie To Vote In Water Works And Garbage Incinerator

A petition bearing almost 2,000 signatures was presented to the Skokie village board asking that the water incinerator improvements be restored to the ballot.

An ordinance was immediately read and approved calling the special election for April 13, primary day.

The village will ask that $800,000 in bonds be approved to cover the water works and $196,000 for the incinerator addition.

Proposed Sale Of Old Libertyville School Bobs Up Again

The plan to sell the old Libertyville-Fremont high school building to the Catholic Archdiocese of Chicago was resurrected at a meeting of the high school board of education and 35 citizens.

Dr. A. Allen Bates, a board member, said he believed the issue was voted down through misunderstanding in last October's referendum.

In presenting evidence in favor of selling the school it was held by the board that repairs and improvements necessary to bring the old building up to minimum state requirements would cost $89,700 over a 5-year period.

Further estimates showing projected enrollment through 1964, and tables comparing one-building and two-building operations during that time were also introduced.

Although there was no definite price offer quoted by the Archdiocese, the minimum would be at least last year's offer, $400,000.

The board said that in their opinion $400,000 could at least duplicate in one building facilities that are now in both and do it better.

Newsstand Of The Week

Coleman's Pharmacy 40 N. Brockway, has been Palatine's Rexall pharmacy for more than 30 years through a succession of owners, Schroeder's, Vesely's, Hacker-Coleman's, then Jack Coleman since about six years ago. Otto Schroeder still owns the building and Hacker works in the store.

Marshall Brooke, one of the pharmacists, is pictured above as he serves the hundreds of customers who flock in each Thursday and Friday to buy copies of the Enterprise, one of the eight Paddock Publications. Owner Jack Coleman is presently enjoying a well-earned vacation with his wife in Miami, Florida. The Coleman family includes girls at 12 and 9, plus a boy 2½ years old.

Red Cross Helping Plenty Of Servicemen

"Red Cross is doing a magnificent job in meeting the needs of American servicemen wherever they are stationed," Samuel G. Creden, Chicago Red Cross chapter chairman informed the local Red Cross fund chairman, Mrs. Frank Harris, 831 N. Mitchell, Arlington Heights.

Since the end of fighting in Korea, demands for Red Cross services to the Armed Forces in this area have been increasing. Red Cross field directors report that morale problems today are often more difficult to handle than those arising from actual combat.

"The work accomplished in Korea last year," Creden said, "indicates the outstanding job the Red Cross is doing. During the last year, field directors in Korea assisted 12,142 servicemen in getting information required for emergency leaves. They handled 52,877 requests for health and welfare inquiries from servicemen or their families. More than 9,514 servicemen received counseling on personal or family problems from Red Cross field directors."

One out of every ten men in service required assistance by Red Cross home service last year. The United States now has 3,000,000 men in the armed forces.

During the 1952-53 fiscal year, service to the Armed Forces, veterans, and their families cost Red Cross $35,147,100.

North Western To Raise The Roof

Plans for raising the train shed roof in the Chicago and North Western Railway's passenger terminal approximately one foot were disclosed by B. R. Meyers, chief engineer of the railway company, who said preliminary work is already under way.

The project is the result of studies made during the past three years on new high-clearance passenger equipment such as dome-type cars for through trains and double-deck cars for suburban service. In line with these studies, the decision of the North Western to increase the height of the roof made it possible for orders to be placed for dome-type passenger equipment for use by the North Western and Union Pacific railroads in jointly operated streamliner service between Chicago and the West Coast. At the same time, it cleared the way for the North Western to place an order for 16 double-deck suburban cars.

THE WORK on increasing the the elevation of the roof is expected to be completed and ready for the new passenger equipment before the end of this year. The raising of the roof, covering an area of about seven acres, will be done without interruption to train movements.

After the train shed roof has been raised, the railroad plans to reactivate an improvement program held up in 1952 to give priority to increasing the overhead clearance. The improvement program includes the resurfacing of the platforms in the train shed, renewing of the roof surfacing and replacement of the skylights with a translucent plastic material.

Home From Tour

Robert J. Nangle, personnel man second class, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul R. Nangle of 507 Go-Wando ave., Mt. Prospect, recently completed a voyage around stormy Cape Horn aboard the aircraft carrier Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Unable to transit the Panama Canal due to its great size, the 45,000 ton carrier is the largest warship ever to round the southern tip of South America. The historic event took place February 2 of this year on a 16,000 mile voyage from Norfolk, Va. to Bremerton, Wash.

Ports of call during the cruise were: Rio de Janeiro, Brazil; Maldonado, Uruguay; Mar del Plata, Argentina; Lima, Peru; Balboa, C.Z., and San Francisco. The ship is presently in Bremerton for a navy yard overhaul.

Nangle was a member of the ship's basketball team during the good-will tour. Playing against military and civilian teams from the major South American cities, the team compiled an 8-5 win-loss record. The best game played, according to Nangle, was the one with the Uruguayan Olympic team in Montevideo, Uruguay.

Nangle has also visited France, Italy, Morocco, Sicily, Gibraltar, Cuba, Jamaica, Haiti, the Virgin Islands, Monaco, Vatican city, Labrador, Puerto Rico and North Africa.

Prior to entering the service, he graduated from Bexley high school, Columbus, Ohio, and attended Ohio State University, Columbus, Ohio.

In his spare time he plays basketball and bowls. He has made friends in Nany, and enjoys especially his visits in the home of an Italian family, who make wonderful Pizza. However, he is now beginning to count the days until he will be coming home.

Home On Furlough

Pvt. Walter Q. Page has recently been on furlough in Austin, Texas, visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Page. Walter has been in training almost a year, with an anti-aircraft gun battalion. He received his basic training at Fort Bliss, Texas, and has since been taking more advanced training at Camp Stewart, Ga., and Fort Jackson, So. Carolina.

Sometime in the next few weeks, Walter's unit is to be transferred to metropolitan Chicago, which is a very pleasant prospect for Walter. He is a former Arlington Heights boy, and has brothers and sisters in this area, as well as many friends.

During Walter's furlough at home Phil Theis of Arlington Heights spent a week end in Austin. Phil and Walter are old buddies from high school days, so they always have a good time when they get together.

In France

Pfc. Ralph E. Page, formerly of Arlington Heights, is serving with an engineer group stationed near Toul, France. Ralph serves as a clerk in the communications office. He has had an opportunity to see a good many of the scenic and historical places in his area, and has been to Paris a couple of times. He plans to take a leave this spring, and will visit Holland and Luxemborg.

In Alaska

Transplant Trees For Can Company Plant

Earth-moving and other machines that arrived at the site of American Can company's Crystal Lake research center, the middle of last month, are making rapid progress with the ground clearing operations for the driveways and laboratory buildings.

Carrying out assurances voiced by company representatives at hearings leading up to rezoning of the 40-acre tract, special equipment also is on the property removing trees from the building and roadway locations for transplanting at other points on the tract.
